ARDENT LOVE MAKING SCENES ARE DESCRIBED

Judge Newt Morris To Ask for New Trial; the Woman in Case Scheduled to Face Jury Today

Marietta, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—Sim Edwards, wealthy young Powder Springs farmer, was found guilty today in the Blue Ridge circuit court of having attempted to murder his neighbor, D. D. Bullard, on the night of July 9, the jury returning a verdict of imprisonment from two to four years.

The verdict was returned in two hours and a half after the case went to the jury. The case closed at 2:45 o'clock, and the jury returned with its decision at 5:30.

Judge Newt Morris, counsel for Edwards, will make a formal motion for a new trial Friday morning when court opens to start the second of the sensational "love conspiracy" trials against Mrs. Ruth Burnett Bullard, who is charged with the same crime as Edwards.

Edwards heard the verdict of the jury with features expressing the greatest surprise. From the solicitor general he glanced to the judge and again to his counsel. Mrs. Bullard, who had been in court all day, hid her face in a handkerchief for a few moments, but started immediately chatting with friends.

"Clandestine Love Affair." The verdict of the jury brought the first of the two trials in connection with the Bullard case to a close after two days of the most sensational evidence of a clandestine love affair between Edwards and the wife of his friend, Bullard; of scenes of ardent love-making in the summer kitchen of the Bullard home and of suspicious and whispering about the alleged relations existing between the two in the Powder Springs neighborhood.

The evidence came to an abrupt close at 10 o'clock in the morning when the state rested its case and Judge Newton Morris immediately asked for withdrawal of the jury in order to make a motion that a verdict for acquittal be directed by Judge W. D. Blair.

Judge Blair refused to direct a verdict in the case, although counsel for the defense insisted that he could quote authorities to support his argument. "The prosecution has not brought the defendant any nearer the place of the shooting than a mile and a half," Judge Blair said.

Mrs. Bullard Not Called. Although Mrs. Ruth Bullard and several other witnesses had been called by the defense, Judge Newton Morris contented his defense with a state-

$1,332 BILL FOR SOCKS PRESENTED CHICAGOAN

Chicago, October 4.—Men's silk hose, 111 pairs, priced at $12 a pair, are involved in a suit for $1,332 instituted by a firm of men's furnishers against Joseph Leiter, grain operator. The company demanded payment for the hose which it contended Leiter bought, and which he denied having done. He said he merely walked in one day and priced them.

The 111 pairs of hose were delivered to Mr. Leiter who said nothing about them but continued to lay out one pair a day. On the twenty-eighth day, his attorneys said, Mr. Leiter discovered he had the hose. He had worn hose valued at $336 up to that time.

TURK PRESIDENT SOON TO REPLACE SULTAN AS RULER

New Constitution Will Proclaim Republic and Specify Five-Year Executive Term.

Constantinople, October 4.—The new Turkish constitution will provide that Turkey be proclaimed a republic, with a president elected for a period of 4 or 5 years, it was learned today. The national assembly will have legislative power only, the legislative power being entrusted to a cabinet responsible to the assembly.

A council of state will fulfill the functions usually cared for by a parliamentary upper house. The members of this council will be appointed by the president of the republic.

TWO L. & N. TRAINS IN HEAD-ON CRASH

Southbound New Orleans
Limited Collides With Northbound Local; One
Dead, One Hurt.

Mobile, Ala., October 4.—Train No. 1, of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, fast southbound New York-New Orleans limited, was in a collision with a northbound local train between Biloxi and Ocean Springs early tonight.

Engineer Wiley Lutzon, of Mobile, was fatally hurt, and Fireman Sylvester Anthony, of Mobile, was seriously injured, and J. V. Reel New Orleans, mail clerk, was said to be slightly injured.

Lutzon died in a Biloxi hospital several hours after the accident. Beyond receiving a severe shaking up none of the passengers aboard both trains were said to have been hurt.

DEATH AND LAW STRIP HOME BARE OF LOVED TOTS

New York, October 4.—Tragedy stole upon Mrs. John Leibold through the hazy steam that surrounded her washbasin and in the guise of death and the law, snatched away her two daughters.

Edna, 14, and little Gladys, only 3 months old, frequently interrupted their mother as she worked at the family washing. The mother bore the annoyances patiently.

Then came a knock at the door. A resident in the same apartment house had been robbed. She suspected Edna. It was a mistake, of course, but the detectives must make a search. It was not a mistake. A bracelet which the neighbor claimed was found in the Leibold apartment.

Edna, her mother accompanying her, was taken away to be arraigned on a charge of juvenile delinquency. Mrs. Leibold came back to resume her washing. Outside the apartment house a group of children melted away to reveal one of them holding baby Gladys. The baby was choking. A piece of candy had stuck in her throat.

Baby Gladys coughed appealingly at her mother. The coughing ceased. The baby was dead.

Mother Leibold went back to her apartment and bent again over her tub. There were no more interruptions. When her husband, driver of a moving van, returned home, he found her there, the steam from the tub mingling with the tears that trickled down her face.

District Judge Clark Issues
Order for Grand

(BY THE UNITED NEWS.) Oklahoma City, Okla., October 4.—Governor J. C. ("Iron Man") Walton, declaring himself to be under constant threat of death at the hands of the Ku Klux Klan assassins, Thursday night perfected his plans to continue his fight on the invisible empire, to the end.

A counter move by his enemies made Wednesday, asking that a grand jury be appointed to investigate the employment of gunmen by Walton to stop Tuesday's special election, was successful when District Judge W. Clark issued the jury order late Thursday.

The chief executive seemed somewhat annoyed at his continual defeat in this court. Judge Clark was brought before the military board and, according to the evidence taken at the hearings which was given out by Walton, the jurist admitted having been a member of the Klan at one time.

Simultaneously the governor sent out another appeal for financial aid with which to carry on his fight. He issued a statement summoning every man in the state to show his colors, either to appear on one side or the other.

GLEASON GUILTY DECLARES JURY

Abe Powers Appears in Court as Witness for the State—Defendant Was
"Steerer" for Exchange.

Another chapter was written Thursday afternoon in the round-up of Atlanta's "million dollar" bunco gang, when Lem Gleason, suave "confidence man," was sentenced to serve five years in the state penitentiary following his conviction in Fulton superior court for complicity in the operations of the Floyd Woodward syndicate in Atlanta several years ago.

Gleason went on trial Wednesday morning, the jury returning a verdict of guilty late Thursday afternoon. Gleason entered a plea of guilty upon the same charge several weeks ago, but after sentence was passed he withdrew the plea, claiming that his counsel, Attorney W. Paul Carpenter, had entered into an agreement with Solicitor General John A. Boykin to lighten his sentence. Judge John D. Humphries granted a new trial.

Abe Powers, a convicted member of the Woodward gang, appeared against his former confederate as a state witness in the trial. According to testimony introduced Wednesday Gleason was a "steerer" at the "exchange" in West Peachtree street where scores of wealthy tourists were defrauded out of thousands of dollars.

Attorney Paul Carpenter waived opening argument for the defense and Solicitor Boykin began speaking. The solicitor introduced numerous articles used in the swindling game, such as "phony" money, telegraph instruments, turf exchange cards and stock exchange papers.

Gleason was indicted by the Fulton county grand jury for complicity in swindling Wade Lamar and M. E. Holley, wealthy South Carolina planters, who lost approximately $11,000. N. L. Davis, of Indiana, another victim of Gleason, is said to have contributed $5,000 to Woodward's gang.

Cost of membership in the "amphiphony" association is only $10. Two

Coolidges Observe 17th Anniversary Of Their Marriage

Washington, October 4.—President and Mrs. Coolidge today observed their first wedding anniversary in the white house, while it was as simple and quiet as any of the 17 anniversaries that had preceded it.

When they were married 18 years ago, Mr. Coolidge was a struggling lawyer in Northampton, Mass., while Mrs. Coolidge as Miss Grace Goodhue, had just given up teaching in the public schools of the community. Their friends explained today that it was the custom in the family to observe all anniversaries and holidays very quietly and generally without the entertainment of any guests.

RECORD EXHIBITS WILL BE OFFERED BY SOUTHEASTERN

All the Records Indicate
That Show This Year
Will Eclipse All Records
Made in the Past.

Tomorrow is the "big day." The Southeastern fair, with the most complete line of exhibits, the best free attractions, the finest midway, the most gorgeous fireworks, the fastest horse races and numerous other displays of every kind and description, opens at noon for an eight-day run.

Enthusiasm is running high among the officers and directors of the fair association over the magnificent show which has been arranged and the prospect of wonderful success. The fair is going to eclipse all others. Attendance records will be broken and from a financial standpoint it will be more than satisfactory, according to all indications.

From the opening hour until the closing there will be events of interest for everybody who attends. There will be things to amuse old and young. Everything of interest will be shown. Special attractions for special days are ready, and there will be a number of special days.

Saturday is opening day and will be featured with the fastest automobile races ever seen in the south and one of the most gorgeous displays of fireworks ever presented.

Monday is School and College day. For this occasion the admission for children and college students will be only 15 cents.

Monday also marks the opening of the horse racing. Strings of runners, pacers and trotters are here for the big tracks in the north and east. The day after the handsome purses offered by the fair association, and their owners are going to push them to the limit for records. There will be running, trotting and pacing events each day, so that the fans who like the different kinds of race events will be satisfied.

On Monday night in commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of Atlanta, there will be reproduced in fireworks the famous battle of Atlanta in 1864 and the burning of Atlanta by Sherman's army a few weeks later. This historical event will appeal to the legions of the city's old and young students and the old and young.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Eddyville, Ky., October 4.—The second night of the "siege of Eddyville" found prison authorities and national guard officers directing an active campaign against the barricaded mess hall in the center of the Kentucky state penitentiary area here which was expected to bring to an end the grim game of hide-and-seek with death, between armed forces of the state and three desperate convict gunmen who are making a last stand in the dining hall of the building.

The steel-jacketed bullets from national guardmen's service rifles and two machine guns have been smashing into the thick brick walls of the mess hall in intermittent barrages throughout the afternoon. Before night it was apparent to the besiegers that the walls of the improvised fortress would crumble in event the withering volleys were sustained for a sufficient period.

Twenty-five thousand rounds of machine gun ammunition from Camp Henry Knox, together with a supply of rifle grenades, were received late today and tonight the crash of rifle fire mingled with the rat-tat-tat of the machine guns echoed from the prison walls.

PERSONAL REASONS GIVEN BY BOTH MEN

State Department Refuses to Indicate Whether the Places Have Been Ten-

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Washington, October 4.—The resignations of Ambassadors Harvey at London and Child at Rome submitted for private reasons and under agreement reached with the Harding administration, have been accepted, marking the first big change in American diplomatic service since President Coolidge took office.

Ambassador Harvey will quit his post about the first of the year. Ambassador Child, who has either left or is about to leave Rome for the United States, will not go back. None of the other American ambassadors or ministers, the state department said in making the announcement, has any similar agreement limiting his term of service so far as known.

The only explanation of the two resignations given in official quarters was that in both cases the ambassadors had a few months ago reached agreements with President Harding as to the length of time they could continue at their posts. In both cases there have been intimations that the ambassadors were finding their positions unduly heavy burdens in a financial way.

When Ambassador Harvey was last in the United States on a somewhat prolonged leave, it was reported that he would resign and take an active part in the coming presidential campaign. However, state department officials today limited their announcement to the statement that Mr. Harvey was about to retire.

No Word on Successors. There was no official word available tonight as to successors President Coolidge might send to fill the posts.

Both of the retiring ambassadors played important parts in the campaign for President Harding and since entering upon their diplomatic duties they have been prominent figures in negotiations having to do with post-war developments, functioning at times as American observers on the allied council of ambassadors which

MASTER LIBELS SHIP AS RECOVERY MOVE

Mobile, Ala., October 4.—Libel was filed in the federal district court here today against the British auxiliary schooner Arroyo, on which it is alleged that liquor was seized and brought to Mobile on August 23. The vessel is alleged to have had on board over 700 cases of liquor when it was seized off Breton Island, La. Although the seizure was made in territory under the jurisdiction of the New Orleans office the whisky and ship were brought to Mobile and held by the customs officials, pending action of the court. The libel was filed by Solon Walton, master, to recover the vessel from the customs officers. It is alleged in the libel that the ship was out of territorial waters when seized. The liquor was also brought here and stored.

HEAVY LIFE TOLL LOOMS AS STORMS ABATE IN FURY

Fishing Smacks Are Worst Sufferers of Hurricanes in English
Channel.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Paris, October 4.—North to north-westerly gales, at times developing into a hurricane, have been raging during the past thirty-six hours, causing the loss of many lives and stranding the French shores on the English channel and Atlantic seaboard with wreckage. The storm shows signs of abating tonight.

The steamship Majestic, Minneapolis and Empress of Britain were hove to outside the Cherbourg roads for 20 to 24 hours, but succeeded in entering port late this afternoon, and cleared before evening.

The steamer Pacific, from Hamburg for Panama, is ashore two miles south of Cherbourg; the crew was saved. Two fishing smacks foundered and four men were drowned. Trams and telegraph services are badly interrupted. The channel service to Dover, Calais and other points was at a standstill throughout the day.

The steamer Engadine, the only one attempting a crossing, was unable to make Boulogne, and was forced to port to sea again.

The English steamer Enrico, coal laden, is aground off Etaples, and the fate of the crew of twenty-two is not yet known. An English freighter is a total loss two miles north of Dunkirk and Gravelines and four of the crew are missing. The Belgian steamer City of Ghent was rammed by a dredger in the port of Dunkirk and seriously damaged.

The wireless installation at Loriet was smashed to the ground and four fishing smacks went down with all on board between Ushant light and Brest.

Curry Sentenced To Die by Noose On November 16

Prisoner Is Impassive as the Jury Returns Verdict of Guilty.

Lyon, Ga., October 4.—Lee Curry, charged with the murder of Burleigh Phillips, was convicted for the fourth time by a jury here this afternoon, a verdict without recommendation being returned at 12:15 o'clock.

This afternoon Curry was sentenced to be hanged November 16. He received the sentence as he did the verdict of guilty, without emotion. When the jury brought in the verdict Curry was in the court room. He made no statement, and showed absolutely no emotion. He merely gazed at the jury expressionsless.

The prisoner was escorted back to the local jail.

It was understood that the jury stood 10 for conviction and two for imprisonment at 11 o'clock this morning but at 12:15 a unanimous verdict was reached.

The crime with which Curry was charged was committed several years ago. It was alleged that Curry engaged Phillips, a taxicab driver, to drive him to a place where he could buy liquor. An argument ensued when Curry, upon reaching the place, urged Phillips to go in and buy the whisky. Curry, it is alleged, struck Phillips in the head with a heavy automobile tool and, beating him dead, buried him in a shallow grave.

When the grave was discovered the body was partially out, the victim evidently having tried to dig himself out, but a heavy log rolled across the grave, prevented his escape.

DICTATOR LOOMS AS STRESEMANN STRENGTH WANES

GENERAL SHUFFLE OF MINISTRIES SEEN

Ambassador to United States May Play an Important Role in the New Regime in Germany.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Berlin, October 4.—Experts in constitutional law who ventured to discuss the parliamentary situation growing out of the retirement of Chancellor Stresemann's coalition cabinet, because of the socialist's refusal to approve the "authorization law," believe the only alternative left to President Ebert is recourse to the prerogative allowed him by paragraph 48 of the constitution. By the terms of that paragraph, as interpreted by Dr. Hugo Preuss, who drafted the constitution, President Ebert—if the chancellor's cabinet represents a minority government—must dictate such laws and relief measures as are demanded by the economic, financial and social situation.

A constitutional dictatorship, it is believed, is the sole alternative left to the president and the former chancellor, in view of Stresemann's inability to command a two-third majority support in the reichstag, which is necessary to legalize his authorization law.

The parliamentary situation today gave no indication that Dr. Stresemann would be able to count on a dependable working support, even if he were assured of the votes of the German nationalists. In order to relieve him of any apprehension or feelings of insecurity, so far as accounting for his stewardship to the reichstag is concerned, it will become necessary for President Ebert to decree an extraordinary dictator decree, as provided by paragraph 48, which would permanently relieve Dr. Stresemann

R. N. BERRIEN, JR. PUT UNDER ARREST

Former Atlanta Broker Is Jailed on Complaint
Made by New York
Brokerage Concern.

R. N. Berrien, Jr., former Atlanta broker who broke into the limelight four years ago when he was arrested and convicted on charges of misappropriating more than $43,000 in state school warrants entrusted in his care, was taken into custody by city detectives late Thursday night at the instigation of New York authorities, and is being held at police headquarters on charges of suspicion.

Berrien declined to comment on his arrest. He was in an office in the Candler building at 11 o'clock when City Detectives T. J. Harrison and Fred Norris, in company with private detectives, took him into custody. At the police station it was stated that Berrien was accused by a New York brokerage concern of misappropriating a check for $5,000 which had been entrusted to him for the purchase of bonds. He refused to deny or affirm these charges.

Before he was incarcerated in the city jail, Berrien telephoned Attorney Horace Russell, of the law firm of Watkins, Russell & Ashbill, and made an appointment with him for Friday morning. Mr. Russell declared he knew nothing concerning the latest charges against Berrien.

Berrien's arrest in November, 1921, created unusual interest throughout the state. He was engaged in the brokerage business in Atlanta and had purchased approximately $5,000,000 worth of school warrants, dating back over a period of three years. Shortly before he was arrested the firm of which he was head failed owing the state approximately $43,000 for school warrants.

Berrien was arrested in New York on a warrant signed by Governor

ASKS INVESTIGATION

Columbus, Ga., October 4.—Investigation of the actions of Harry Ertle, referee, Mike McTigue, world's light, heavyweight champion, and Joe Jacobs, manager for McTigue, in connection with the McTigue-Stribling fight here today was asked of the New York state boxing commission in a lengthy telegram sent to Chairman Muldoon in New York by Major J. Paul Jones, chairman of the American Legion committee in charge of the bout. He declared in his message that "8,000 fans here are adhering to Ertle's decision giving Stribling the world's championship."

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Columbus, Ga., October 4.—Michael McTigue, of Ireland, tonight was speeding out of this city with his light heavyweight championship crown, following his fight with Young Stribling, the 18-year-old Macon, Ga., youth, who for three hours after the fight had in his possession what was supposed to have been the official title. Referee Harry Ertle, closed in a private residence away from angry spectators, issued a signed statement declaring that he had officially declared that the ten-round battle a draw and had not reversed his decision even in the face of threats that "unless I awarded the decision to Stribling I would never leave the arena alive."

He admitted that fight promoters had forced him to grab the right arm of the challenger and raise it aloft, naming Major Paul John Jones, heading the committee of the local post of the American legion staging the fight, as the man who grabbed his and Stribling's hands and raised them aloft.

McTigue and his manager, Joe Jacobs, left town immediately after Ertle issued his official statement. McTigue issued a statement declaring that he had been forced into the ring with a broken thumb at the point of pistols, and Joe Jacobs stated that spectators had threatened to hang him to a tree, holding him responsible for the fight being declared off officially earlier during the day.

Ertle is still in town at a late hour tonight and declared he was no hurry to take his departure. He said that he would go direct to New York and file his official statement with the New York boxing commission.

Ertle Charges. Two hours before the fight, while a crowd was hiding away in the

HUNGARY'S HOPE LIES IN LOAN, SAYS APPONYI

New York, October 4.—The time is not yet here for revision of peace treaties which have brought disaster to the economic efficiency of eastern-central Europe, Count Albert Apponyi, former premier of Hungary, today declared before a meeting of the New York chamber of commerce. Until a day propitious for revision dawns, he said, Hungary must put her hope in a foreign loan.

He declared the makers of the treaty of Trianon had imposed conditions on Hungary which cost her not only her strength but threatened her national unity.

While awaiting revision of the treaty which he characterized as "tyrannous and barbarous" Count Apponyi said his countrymen looked hopefully for a foreign loan as a means of coping with the greatest of their immediate financial difficulties.

AMOSKEAG MILLS SUSPEND OPERATIONS

Manchester, N. H., October 4.—The cotton department of the big mills of the Amoskeag Manufacturing company in this city will be shut down on October 6 for an indefinite period. Business conditions are given as the reason in notices posted today. About 10,000 operatives are affected. The worsted department will continue in operation and as business improves the cotton department will be gradually reopened.

EIGHT BUILDINGS BURN AT CAROLINA RESORT

Hickory, N. C., October 4.—Eight buildings, including the post office, were burned early today at Blowing Rock, a widely-known summer resort, forty miles north of here in the mountains, according to information received here. The loss was estimated at more than $70,000.

Principals in Alleged Love Plot

Bullard, who was the victim of a mysterious midnight attack, in which he was shot, receiving serious injuries.

ment by Edwards, who declared his absolute innocence of the shooting and who charged as false and misleading the evidence of Quillian Tetty, who swore Wednesday that he had caught Mrs. Bullard and Edwards in a most compromising attitude on November 6, 1922.

"I know nothing of the shooting of 'D. D. Bullard,'" said Edwards in a statement that was given in a direct and straightforward manner and without the least display of nervousness. "If you convict me of having shot Bullard, you convict an innocent man," he said. He then related the story of his life. He had lived all his days on his father's farm. He said he had never been arrested before and had never been in trouble and that Bullard and he had always been friends. Speaking about the shot-gun, which lay on the floor a few moments after the shooting, he exclaimed: "Gentlemen, I don't know anything about the shooting. That gun belonged to my brother Hal and I never saw it in D. Bullard's home."

"Didn't Own Gun."

About his movements on the night of the shooting he flatly contradicted statements made to the jury by Grover Brown, his companion on that night. He said that Brown had suggested that they go in search of apple brandy in the neighborhood of the Bullard home.

"We drove to a field and saw a bunch of men. I thought they were revenuers and I told Brown to best it away," Edwards said. "I never knew anything about the shooting until the following morning when Deputy Sheriff Swanson told me that Mr. Sanders had a warrant for my arrest."

Edwards then suddenly turned to the accusations of witnesses about an illicit love affair between himself and Mrs. Bullard. "There never was anything between me and Mrs. Bullard, but a feeling of friendship. The story told by Mr. Tetty in this court is false. I can prove that Tetty was thrown out of the Baptist church because he had slandered the character of another good woman. Bullard was always my friend. We worked together and the very Saturday night before the shooting Bullard invited me over to his home for an ice cream supper."

Defense Rests Case.

As the defense rested its case with the statement by Edwards the state sent Bullard back to the stand for rebuttal. Bullard denied Edwards' statement that he had not seen the gun when it was placed in the loft above the milk house. He also denied that Edwards had come over to his house for an ice cream supper at his invitation.

Other witnesses called by the state were H. B. Wheeler, a garage man at Dallas, Ga., who testified that on the night of the shooting he was awakened by two men who asked him to repair a car. He said he did not know the men and that they had given him directions where to buy them, Wheeler said.

Neither J. S. Boora, an auto supply dealer of Dallas, or L. Phillips, of New Hope, who both testified that they had supplied light bulbs to two men on the night of the shooting, could identify Edwards as one of the men who called upon him that night. The men had wanted light bulbs for their car and he had given them directions where to buy them, Wheeler said.

John Bullock, of Dallas, testified that he had found a pair of overalls in the neighborhood of his house on the morning following the shooting. Grover Brown had testified earlier in the trial that Edwards had discarded his overalls in Dallas when they returned from the unsuccessful booze search.

Deputy Sheriff T. M. Sanders told of finding the automobile tracks between the Bullard and the Edwards home on the morning following the shooting of D. D. Bullard. He said that a barbed wire fence circled the pasture at the back of the Bullard home, a point to which the state attached the greatest importance as Brown had stated on the witness stand that Edwards' overalls were torn in the interval that elapsed when he left the car to look for apple brandy and his last return.

Sanders said that he had first seen Edwards on the afternoon following the shooting of Bullard. He had arrested him in Marietta. "Edwards told me that he had nothing to do with the shooting of Bullard and that he could prove where he had spent the night," Sanders said.

Love Plot Evidence.

The last witness called by the state added more evidence as material for the state's theory of a love affair between Edwards and Mrs. Bullard. F. H. Pitts, of Atlanta, said that he had seen Edwards on one occasion at the bridge near Powder Springs at a moment when Mrs. Bullard and a sister of D. D. Bullard were passing.

"There goes the sweetest woman in the whole world," Edwards told me, said Pitts. "And someday I am going to get her," he added. "I told him to go home. It seemed he had been drinking."

Campbell Wallace opened the argument for the defense. He said that no adequate case had been made out by the prosecution. "All that has been presented to the jury has been circumstantial evidence. Not one witness has been produced who can say he saw the shot fired or who saw Edwards near the Bullard home but all their efforts succeeded in bringing him no closer than a mile and a half. If that man is guilty of the crime he must have full punishment. But he says he is not guilty and the state has not advanced a single bit of evidence to prove that he is," argued Mr. Wallace.

"Did Not Produce Witness."

Colonel J. E. Moseley for the state argued that if Edwards had been able to produce any substantial defense his counsel would have brought it to the fore. "They summoned Mrs. Bullard and a number of other witnesses, but they produced none of them. If any of these witnesses had been able to shed the slightest light on the case in favor of Edwards the defense would have brought it out. The fact of the matter is that no man was ever so completely wrapped up, in fact, than this defendant. He was infatuated with the wife of another and the two of them had to get the husband out of the way. Mr. Moseley said: "The motive for the shooting was to get Bullard's property and Bullard's life. When that sort of an intimacy develops between a man and a married woman it generally ends the way this one did, only in most cases, the truth does not come out the same way."

Gordon Gann, who was also retained by Bullard's father to assist the prosecution, argued that there could be no doubt in the minds of the jurors that Edwards had robbed Bullard's home of his sanctity and chastity.

"Isn't it strange that Bullard should have been shot on the night when Edwards went to Atlanta and hurried back to Powder Springs to look for liquor? I call that unfortunate for Edwards, but it ought to convince you gentlemen that before you stands the man who shot Bullard while he lay asleep in his bed."

Morris Concludes Argument.

Judge Newton Morris concluded the arguments to the jury by stating that the state had failed to connect Edwards in any way with the actual shooting. He asked for a verdict of not guilty. "I don't see how you can return any other kind of a verdict conscientiously," he said.

The case of Mrs. Bullard and Bullard comes up for trial at 8 o'clock Friday morning. Her counsel, John T. Dorsey and Fred Morris, have called 15 witnesses. While the jury in the Edwards case was deliberating a jury for the trial of Mrs. Bullard was selected.

The trial of Mrs. Bullard is expected to last all day Friday and the better part of Saturday.

NO PLACE FOR AUTOS AT COLLEGE, HE SAYS

Columbia, Mo., October 4.—Dr. Stratton D. Brook, president of the University of Missouri here, in a letter addressed to parents of all university students and made public today, requests that students be not supplied with automobiles and that those who now have cars here be required to take them home as soon as possible.

Dr. Brooks also suggested $50 for fixed expenses and $25 additional as a liberal allowance for students and urged against a larger sum for students here.

"There is probably no one thing more detrimental to success in university work than the possession of an automobile by a student," Dr. Brooks said in his letter. "Experience shows that an unusually large proportion of students having automobiles fail to graduate."

Here's New Musical Comedy All Atlantans Will Enjoy

The lady who sat next to me at the Atlanta theater last night, when "The Clinging Vine," musical comedy, opened a three-day and matinee engagement, remarked after the performance that if all the musical shows booked this season are as good as that, she'd like to see every one of them.

It is to be doubted if there was an individual in the entire audience who would disagree with her. "The Clinging Vine" is as charming as a musical show as has been seen here in many moons. It is hard to pick out the particular feature which pleases most, because as soon as you think of one, you feel that to praise it would be, perhaps, unfair to half a score of other pleasing items.

Star Is Pleasing. So, to be orthodox, let's begin with the star. Fernie Rogers is a young lady of presence, daintily, of voice exquisite and of ability proven. She proved it last night. Her voice is not only a contralto of considerable range, with a timbre to it that brings to mind the rich smoothness of heavy silk, the velvet softness of a kitten's purr.

She has been seen here before, but has developed wonderfully since her last appearance. If memory serves aright she was one of the most pleasing features of DeWolf Hopper's company in Gilbert & Sullivan repertoire last year.

There is a comedian with the company who looks and acts like Harold Lloyd. What more could you want? There is a villain who looks like Wallace Reid. And the hero, to make the screen comparison complete, reminds all the time of some male star of the movies, but for the life of me I can't recall who it is, right now. However, go and see for yourself, then phone me and tell me who it is. These illusive resemblances can worry one for days, its irritating—in fact, you know how it is yourself.

Loyalty Comedian. In order to give credit so that it cannot be misplaced, the Harold Lloyd-like comedian is named Carl D. Francis, the Reid-resembling villain is John Humbley and the hero is Tom Cody. Other principals who must be given special mention are Corn Williams, as the modern, free-living sort you'll want to take home and play yourself. The staging and costumes are on a par with the entire production in beauty and entireties. —RALPH T. JONES.

NEW STEAM ENGINE OF DOUBLE POWER BEING PERFECTED

Chicago, October 4.—A new steam engine, whose power will be nearly double that of present types with the same expenditure of fuel by the use of mercury vapor instead of water vapor, is being developed by the General Electric company. It became known today.

In the new boiler fire would be placed under mercury instead of water, and would be heated to 675 degrees Fahrenheit, a boiling point 403 degrees higher than that of water. The vapor, passed into a low pressure turbine would retain heat energy lost in water vapor. The exhaust mercury would preserve its heat by being passed through water in a steam boiler, heating the water to steam, which is then transmitted to a steam turbine. The steam boiler is used as a condenser for the mercury, which is returned to its own boiler and reheated to vapor again.

INCREASE IN COST OF GASOLINE SEEN

Chicago, October 4.—Gasoline will cost more this winter and will be still higher in the spring, according to opinions expressed at the convention here of the American Oil Men's association.

Supporting that belief reasons advanced were: by February 1, production of oil will be 500,000 barrels a day lower than it is now; present surplus stocks will be wiped out by the close of 1923 unless there is a quick change in the situation; small independent producers, whose surplus production tends to keep prices down will be out of business by winter if the depression in the oil industry continues.

Independent companies spent more drilling wells last year than they received from selling the oil, according to E. W. Marland, president of the Marland Refining company of New York. Several years ago he said the independent produced 86 per cent of the oil and now more than twenty-six per cent is produced by them, major companies and the Standard Oil company controlling the balance.

Slavonic Dance No. 3 (Dvorak-Kreutzer) Folia del Jascha Heifetz	Jascha Heifetz
Two more of those weird compositions in Kreizler's violin arrangement with piano. They have strange, wailing, double-stop melodies, breaking into dizzy and fantastic dances.

Light Vocal Selections

Record	Artist	Price
Silver Threads Among the Gold	Henry Burr-Peerless Quartet	19112 .75
When You and I Were Young, Maggie	Henry Burr-Peerless Quartet
Two old songs beloved of "Us, the common people," in the smooth rolling harmony of men's voices, with subtle undercurrents of orchestral music.
Three Thousand Years Ago	Billy Murray	19132 .75
It's a Lotta Bologny	Billy Murray
"Three Thousand Years Ago" purports to be sung in Egyptian, though you will understand it without trouble. "Bologny" is a study from "tough life," and a true one.
My Pal	John Steel	19131 .75
Just a Girl that Men Forget	Henry Burr
A typical "pal" song and a heart-song in the most popular of popular styles by two of the most popular of popular tenors. Both songs in waltz time.

OPINIONS DIFFER ON TAX PROSPECT

Opposing views on prospects for tax reform at the special session of the legislature, called to convene on November 7, were expressed Thursday.

State Senator T. S. Mason, of Hartwell, chairman of the special tax commission which has been conducting hearings in all parts of the state, believes that the entire taxation problem will be settled at the special session. On the other hand, Comptroller General William A. Wright expresses opinion that nothing will result from the extra session and, adds that, in his opinion, no new tax laws are needed in the state.

"The manner in which citizens in every city or town that we visited in our tour of the state," said Senator Mason, "came before the commission and freely gave their views and assistance, is evidence to me that the people of the state are heartily in favor of the proposed tax reform. We never finished one of our meetings. We just had to quit. We met morning, afternoon and night, and then were unable to hear all who desired to appear before us."

Senator Mason stated that the commission has not yet begun work on drawing up its report and recommendations for the legislature, and will not do so until a series of hearings have been held in Atlanta. The first of these open hearings is scheduled for next Tuesday.

Declaring his belief that there would be no tax reform enacted at the November session, General Wright said on Thursday:

"I base my opinion on the fact that the same legislature that refused to enact any reforms at the last regular session will pass on the measures suggested in November."

"Our system of taxation is fundamentally right. It has been created and amended by some of the most capable leaders in Georgia. The income tax is not necessary. We have plenty of tax laws and machines. What we need is a few amendments to perfect them."

BRITT DAMAGE CASE NEW TRIAL GRANTED

Refusal of the lower court to grant a retrial in the case of the Georgia Railway & Power company against A. C. Britt was reversed on Thursday in a decision handed down by the Georgia court of appeals.

Britt, a former motorman with the company, sued for $40,000 for personal injuries sustained during his employment. The jury awarded him $15,000, and the defendant asked for a new trial on the ground that the judge, in charging the jury, erred in telling them they might arrive at a proper computation of the financial loss sustained by taking the plaintiff's expectation of life at the time of the accident and multiplying it by his annual earning power.

FORD REQUISITION PAPERS ARE DRAWN

Requisition papers were issued Thursday by Governor Clifford Walker for Ben Ford, wanted in North Carolina on two indictments and now said to be a fugitive from justice in Indiana. Ford is charged with "shooting into an occupied dwelling" and "carrying a pistol without license." The requisition was granted upon request of R. S. Foy, solicitor general of the North Carolina circuit, who stated that he believed he had sufficient evidence against Ford to convict.

BURGLAR-PRISONER'S SENTENCE COMMUTED

Governor Clifford Walker Thursday approved the recommendation of the state prison commission that sentence against Bill Baker of Spaulding county be commuted to prison service. Baker was convicted on two charges of burglary and given sentences of from one to three years in one case and of three years in the other. He pleaded guilty on one count but protested his innocence on the other.

ALDERMEN APPROVE COUNCIL'S MEASURES

The aldermanic board quickly rubber-stamped in session Thursday all the measures approved by council Monday, sending to Mayor Sims for final approval 10 street paving contracts, the October finance sheet, the Edgewood and Highland avenue improvements and a number of items of minor importance. No changes were made in the councilmanic measures.

Lloyd George Not Able To Pay Visit to Atlanta

It will be impossible for David Lloyd George, premier of England, to visit Atlanta on his tour of America, on account of the definite itinerary which has been planned for him, it was stated here Thursday by John W. Davis, ambassador to the court of St. James during the Wilson administration. Mr. Davis was in Atlanta Thursday morning on his way to the circuit court of appeals. He returned to his home at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

A result of his announcement, the trip of Marvin Underwood of Atlanta, who was scheduled to start to New York Thursday afternoon as the official representative of Atlanta, to invite the premier to visit this city, was abandoned. Alfred C. Nevell, president of the chamber of commerce, announced that no formal invitation would be extended following the statement of Mr. Davis.

Former Ambassador Davis, who is a personal friend of the British prime minister, told Mr. Underwood, who is also a close personal friend of Mr. Davis, that the premier's visit to Atlanta, and that no change in the itinerary plans would be possible at this time.

INMAN IS SWORN IN AS COUNCIL MEMBER

Edward H. Inman became a member of council from the eighth ward, succeeding Edgar Watkins, resigned, in an unostentatious ceremony in Mayor Sims office Thursday afternoon. Alderman W. B. Hartfield and Henson Eatum, secretary to the mayor, were the only other officials present.

Mr. Inman automatically becomes chairman of the school committee of council and member of the other committees of which Mr. Watkins was a member. Mr. Watkins resigned because of ill health and asked that Mr. Inman be elected to succeed him. Council accepted the resignation "with regret" and elected Mr. Inman.

MUSICAL EDUCATION PRIZES ARE ALLOWED

Business houses and individuals interested in musical education for public school children will be permitted to offer prizes for the youngsters who will compete in the "music memory contest" this year, it was decided by the committee on administration of the board of education Thursday afternoon.

All elementary school pupils are entered in the contest, which began October 1. A stated number of musical selections of classical type are offered for study. At the end of the contest in the spring examination will be given to test the pupils' memory for the music, composer, theme and other details.

YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY TO "WHITE SLAVE" ACT

R. K. Boyle, 18-year-old Atlanta youth, entered a plea of guilty in United States district court Thursday to charges of violating the Mann act, sentence being reserved by Federal Judge Sibley until an investigation into Boyle's age can be made.

The indictment charged Boyle with transporting for immoral purposes to New Orleans from Atlanta, a young Atlanta woman. Owing to the youth of the defendant Judge Sibley expressed the opinion that before pronouncing sentence it might be possible to send Boyle to the federal reformatory school at Washington, D. C.

LAVORAH HOME AGAIN AFTER DISAPPEARANCE

Anxiety of Mrs. W. A. Woodall, 90 Garibaldi street, caused by the disappearance of her daughter from home twice within a period of ten days, were again relieved Thursday morning when the "runaway girl" was found by Police Sergeant G. T. Butler at Ivy and Houston streets.

Mrs. Woodall's daughter, Lavorah Rogers, 16-year-old, left both times, it is said, in company with Mary Turner, of 89 Windsor street. She is said to have told Sergeant Butler that her mother had beaten her cruelly and that, she said, is why she left home.

MANY PRISONERS OF STATE CONVERTED

Chaplain A. C. Atkins, of the state prison farm at Milledgeville, has filed his report for September with the state prison commission. The work of converting inmates of this institution to better ways of life continues to prosper, according to Chaplain Atkins, who adds that "if all professions are sincere, it is evident that the incarceration of many will result in a higher type of citizenship for the state."

Twenty-four have professed religion during September, he says; 36 others have joined the pocket testament league and 124 have pledged themselves to lead better lives in future.

Mayor and Council Will Tour Schools As Sutton's Guests

Mayor Walter A. Sims, all members of council, and members of the board of education will make a complete tour of the new bond issue school buildings next Thursday morning as the guests of Superintendent of Schools Willis A. Sutton.

"I believe the best way to forestall criticism is to place people in possession of the real facts by letting them see for themselves," Mr. Sutton said in announcing the tour.

The school board plans to ask for a bond issue of several million dollars in the spring to complete the building program. It will be up to mayor and general council to call the election and finally to approve such an issue.

REMINGTON COMPANY GETS NEW QUARTERS

In order to take care of enlarged business, the Remington Typewriter company has moved from 52 North Pryor street, to 38 Luckie street, and will be open for business in the new quarters today.

The Luckie street location gives the Remington company increased space in a two-story building with basement, the lease for the structure involving $4,000 for a period of ten years. The new building is modern in every particular, being equipped with steel ceilings and hardwood floors in addition to numerous other attractive features.

Given Five Years For Tossing Lye At Fellow Convict

Israel Hanson, an inmate of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, was arranged before Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley, in district court Thursday, and sentenced to five years following completion of his present sentence, for throwing lye into the face of a fellow prisoner, causing permanent impairment of his vision.

Another indictment against Hanson, charging him with attacking R. Davis, a guard at the penitentiary, was read in the court, but no action was taken on it.

A. S. Bailey, the prisoner who was blinded by the lye, was principal witness for the government against the defendant.

WALKER WILL ATTEND GOVERNORS' SESSION

With the main object of discussing the taxation question with governors of other states, Governor Clifford Walker announced on Thursday that he will attend the conference of governors to be held at West Baden, Indiana, this month, and that on October 20 he will go, with other chief state executives, to Washington to confer with President Coolidge.

"I want to learn more about the systems of taxation in operation in other states," said Governor Walker, "and am, therefore, glad of this opportunity to meet other state governors."

The governors have been called to Washington by the president to discuss law enforcement, particularly in reference to the laws on prohibition, immigration and narcotics.

Nature gave our famous Humble crude marvelous lubricating oil qualities. But to prepare it still further before refining, we store it at our tank farm, so that it goes to our stills clear and clean of sand, sediment and other raw impurities.

Not a mere synthetic "blend" or "compound" Nyfte oil from lightest, most free flowing to the heaviest and most viscous is taken from the crude in straight cuts. The qualities nature gave, have not been torn down and rebuilt, but merely separated to specific uses.

If free carbon and other injurious properties are not completely eliminated by scientific refining treatment, your motor will perform that task, but in doing so it will be injured or ruined. Nyfte oil is practically carbon-free. No fouled plugs--no carboned cylinders and valves.

When Nyfte oil is ready for filtration, it is already practically pure, retaining but a trace of impurities affecting only the "color." The final process, of intensive filtration, leaves it clear and sparkling, utterly pure in color and in fact.

GEORGIA TAX LAW IN SUPREME COURT

Washington, October 4.—The constitutionality of the Georgia tax equalization law is questioned in a case which is expected to be argued before the United States supreme court here Friday.

The case was brought by Charles E. McGregor, of Warrenton, Ga., who claims that section six of the act is in violation of the due process of law clause of the constitution of the United States. He is seeking to enjoin the collection of certain tax levied against him in compliance with the act.

The case will be argued by L. D. McGregor, of Warrenton, who is associated in the case with Virgil E. Adams, of Atlanta; E. P. and J. Cecil Davis, of Warrenton, and State Attorney George M. Napier, are counsel for the defendants in error. George P. Hogan, sheriff; J. T. Scruggs, tax collector; D. E. Johnson, commissioner of roads and revenues; C. A. Wheeler, H. F. Morris, and G. A. Ray, board of tax assessors, all of Warrenton county.

The case was appealed from the state supreme court on writ of error.

McGregor's taxes were fixed by the board of assessors, without any protest from him. Later he asked for arbitration, but the board refused. He claims that his constitutional rights have been violated.

Protesting against increased assessments on his Warrenton county farm which were raised from $12,000 to $28,000 without due process of law, form the basis of the appeal to the United States supreme court by Major C. E. McGregor, state pension commissioner, which is scheduled for argument Friday, according to Attorney Virgil E. Adams, Atlanta counsel.

"Without warning," declared Attorney Adams, the tax assessors raised my client's assessment from $12,000 to $28,000 last year. He refused to pay taxes on this increased assessment and obtained a restraining order against collection of the tax. The case was heard by the superior court of Warrenton county which ruled against Major McGregor.

"An appeal was carried to the state supreme court which sustained the decision of the lower court. Arguments in the highest tribunal of the land are set for Friday morning. L. D. McGregor, son of Major McGregor, will present briefs in the case before the supreme court and at the same time will obtain his admittance to practice before the United States supreme court bar.

J. A. McCORD TO PLAY HOST TO OLD GUARD

Joseph A. McCord, chairman of the board of directors of the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank, will act as host to members of the Old Guard, pioneer local military organization of which he is commander, at a three-day outing on his farm in Murray county beginning today.

Automobiles will assemble at the Grady monument at 7 o'clock Friday morning and will convey the guardsmen through the country to the McCord farm. The trip will be routed through Marietta, Acworth, Adairsville, Calhoun, Dalton and Spring Place.

Others invited to attend the outing, which will be featured with an old-fashioned Georgia barbecue Saturday, include: R. A. Broyles, Robert Harvey, Haynes McFadden, B. M. Hall, James J. Goodrum, Lee Egan, T. R. Bennett, J. A. McCord, Jr., Major Charles Cox, Dr. Willis Jones and Mr. Tuggle, who will prepare the barbecue.

CHARGES OF WOMAN FALSE, SAYS CLARKE

Declaring that the breach of promise suit filed Thursday by Mrs. Helen Steele, of Knoxville, Tenn., against E. Y. Clarke, former acting imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, is another attempt "to discredit" the latter, attorneys for Mr. Clarke Thursday night issued a statement that "there is pointed significance to the suit being filed while radical changes and readjustments in the official affairs of the Klan are imminent."

While the statement of the attorney, who is Sidney Smith, of the firm of Westmoreland & Smith, made no personal references to parties named as responsible for the action, it declared that "sworn affidavits have been voluntarily given Mr. Clarke some months ago to show that money had been proffered, in the presence of witnesses, to this woman if she would bring a suit of any kind or nature against Mr. Clarke."

Charging "breach of promise" and "fraud and deception," Mrs. Steele filed two damage suits asking $100,000 each in Fulton superior court.

The petition alleges that Clarke lived with Mrs. Steele under promise to marry her and that he maintained a house for her use on Ormond street. She charges that he left Atlanta and did not communicate with her for several months. Clarke sent her money through a friend, the suit sets out, but later discontinued to contribute to her support. The suit was filed by the law firm of Powell & Hazard.

Following is Attorney Smith's statement in full:

"I am authorized to say for Mr. Clarke that the allegations contained in the filed by Mrs. Steele, of 175 Ivy street, are absolutely false and that they are of significance in their being filed today after having been under consideration for several months in view of the fact that radical changes and readjustments in the official affairs of the Ku Klux Klan are now imminent.

"I am not at all disturbed or concerned over the suits of Mrs. Steele as Mr. Clarke has definite and unavailable information in his possession that they are just another one of the efforts which have been made since a period of nearly two years to discredit him. As a matter of fact sworn affidavits were voluntarily given to Mr. Clarke some months ago to show that money had been proffered in the presence of witnesses, to this woman if she would bring a suit of any kind or nature against Mr. Clarke.

"I do not think it necessary to make any further statement than this at this time."

45 ARE OVERCOME BY CHLORINE GAS

Philadelphia, October 4.—Forty-five persons, including six firemen, were overcome by chlorine gas in the Dill and Collins paper mill here today. Ten of the victims are in a serious condition.

The chlorine, which is used to bleach paper pulp, escaped through a defective valve. Employees working in the bleaching room, detected the escaping gas but thirty were overcome and were carried from the place as they coughed and gasped in an effort to clear their lungs.

Officials of the mill summoned city firemen who attempted to dispel the poisonous vapors by playing streams of water on the bleaching room. The gas came through the walls of the room and firemen were overcome in their places on the hose lines.

Engineers of the plant finally checked the escape of the gas while firemen managed to clear the air by playing the water lines on the bleaching room for an hour.

The victims were treated at the scene while the more serious cases were removed to a hospital.

in London was the conclusion of the British war debt negotiations. When the exchange reached their final stage, and Premier Baldwin, then chancellor, was in the United States with the British commission to work out details of an agreement, Mr. Harvey was called home to aid in bringing the refunding to a successful conclusion.

At present questions regarding liquor smuggling and the status of ship stores of liquor in American waters are among subjects before the British imperial conference, now in session.

session in London. The British government recently notified Secretary Hughes that his proposals for a treaty agreement to cover these subjects, while not entirely favorable from a foreign office viewpoint, would be laid before the council representatives of the self-governing colonies.

Ambassador Harvey is known to have discussed fully with administration officials when he was last in Washington all aspects of the liquor treaty plan. It appeared possible that these negotiations might be responsible for his decision to continue his diplomatic service to the end of the year.

Ambassador Child headed the American delegation sent to the first Lausanne conference for conclusion of peace between Turkey and the allies. While the United States was not at war with Turkey, it was felt necessary that American viewpoints should be fully presented during the treaty negotiations even though the American delegates did not participate in any decisions of the conference. Mr. Child was the American spokesman in the discussions and also gave his aid toward peaceful solution of many of the difficult problems which repeatedly threatened to disrupt the conference.

When the first Lausanne parlous failed Mr. Child returned to Rome, not attending the second conference

RESIGNATIONS FIRE SOULS OF AMBITIOUS

Washington, October 4.—(By United News.)—Announcement at the state department that Colonel George Harvey is soon to quit as ambassador to Great Britain and that Richard Washburn Child is about to resign his post at Rome started the political pot boiling at the capital.

Harvey is returning November 1 and will resign January 1. Child has just left Rome for the United States on leave and has also indicated his desire to be relieved January 1.

When reports of friction between Harvey and Secretary of State Hughes were current some months ago, Paul D. Cravath, of New York, the "high" law firm, was mentioned as a possible successor to Harvey. Others likely to be considered for the Minister Grew, who was associated with Mr. Child in the first conference, conducted the subsequent presentation of American views and negotiations for a separate treaty of commerce with Turkey.

Whether Harvey will hitch his wagon to the Coolidge star is the outstanding question here. He has a record for picking winners, having adopted Woodrow Wilson before the country at large had heard of the rising scholar in politics. Likewise he was sitting in the Blackstone conference at Chicago in 1920 when Harding was picked as the republican nominee. Harvey, being a fellow Vermont, naturally would be expected to attach himself to the Coolidge band wagon. But he has roved so freely over the political pastures, first in one party and then in another, that no one is able to calculate his orbit. However, the chances are good that he will align himself with Coolidge.

Child was a valuable aide to President Harding at Marion, but whether he will care to devote himself to similar work in the coming campaign is uncertain.

Bluejackets of U. S. Proved Versatility During Earthquake

Washington, October 4.—American Blue Jackets proved their versatility in the Japanese earthquake zone, performing as fire fighters, carpenters, safe crackers and relief work, in addition to their regular duties. Details are contained in a report received today by Secretary Denby from the representative of army relief in Japan. Here is what the Blue Jackets did:

Cleaned up American consulate in addition to rescue work among survivors, and established a hospital. Searched for and buried American dead. Cracked safes, securing valuables and securities for American and foreign firms. Furnished water for all American ships touching in Yokohama and for Americans and army hospital ashore. Fought fire on one American ship. Succored two other ships broken down and repaired machinery so they were able to proceed.

GREAT ORCHESTRA WILL GIVE FIRST CONCERT

seats will be held for each member until after the first number on the program at each concert. In this way, members of the association will be certain of securing seats. Applications for membership may be made today or tomorrow at the office of the Phillips & Crew Piano company, at the corner of Peachtree and Ellis streets, or by applying direct to Mrs. E. M. Horne, chairman of the membership committee, at her residence, 80 East Fourteenth street, phone Hemlock 0849-J.

Seats not required for members' reservations will be open to the general public. There will be no charge for admission to any of the 12 concerts, the membership dues covering the entire expenses of maintaining the orchestra.

The organization of this marks the first symphony orchestra of moment south of the Mason and Dixon line. Other cities of the north and west have won artistic fame through their orchestras, notably Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Minneapolis, New York, Chicago and others. It is believed by the directors of the Atlanta Symphony association that this city, the metropolis of the new south, can create and maintain an orchestra which will take its place among the greatest of the world's musical organizations.

On Sunday, when the new orchestra makes its first bow to the Atlanta public, it is anticipated that the crowds seeking admission to the Howard theater will far exceed the capacity of that house. The entire lower floor, the loges and part of the balcony will have to be reserved for members, leaving the balance of the house for the general public.

The entrances will be divided by white ribbons, with special doors for members and non-members. All members must present their membership cards at the door, but do not give them up, as the same card is used for the entire series of 12 concerts.

Time of Seating. No one will be seated during the rendition of any number on the program. The first number will begin promptly at 8:30 and the doors will be opened at 2:30. A committee from the junior chamber of commerce will assist in seating the audience.

During the opening number those who arrive late will have to wait outside. Then, any members who come in the meantime will be shown to their seats. Whatever seats are then left over in the reserved sections will then be thrown open to the general public.

Manager Howard Price Kingsmore of the Howard theater has cooperated fully with the association in the advance preparations and has arranged for every possible assistance to be rendered by himself and the house staff on Sunday. The Howard theater has been generously donated for the use of the association on Sundays for these concerts.

The orchestra is reported by Conductor Leide to be perfect in its rehearsals for the opening program. It has been rehearsing for the past three months and is reported as near perfection as musical ability could ask. The program on Sunday afternoon includes the Tannhauser overture, the Oberon overture, Schubert's unfinished symphony, Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker suite and the Arabesques by D'Aubussy.

Penniless Woman and Four Children Appeal For Railroad Fare to Home of Grandfather

Mrs. George Shea and children, who are being cared for at Rescue home. They ask sufficient funds to take them to home of her father in Kentucky.

Husband in Federal Prison, Wife Makes Her Plea to Rescue Workers To Aid Her in Distress.

BY RALPH T. JONES.

There is a mother, with four children clinging to her dusty skirts, with a two-month-old babe whimpering at her breast, and with a twelve-year-old son for her only prop in her time of dire distress, in Atlanta today. Penniless, hopeless and despairing, the family is in the keeping of the American Rescue Workers at the home on E. Ellis street, sheltered from utter destitution under the protecting care of Colonel and Mrs. Horace Burton, officials of the home.

The husband and father of this family is warm and well fed, clothed, kept and protected in Uncle Sam's great institution, the federal prison. He is serving a three-year sentence for moonshining, begun about four months ago, and it will be many weary months before these pitiful dependants can again look to him for the support they must have.

Yet, do not blame the man too much. The home from which they came was a rented farm on the mountain sides of West Virginia. At a little place called Black Wolf, twenty miles beyond Welch, the center of the Welsh coal fields, they had their home on a tiny rented farm. From early morning to late night the man, George Shea, worked to wrest a living from the stubborn soil for his family. Baby after baby came to add another mouth to those to be fed, to add another pair of soft arms to clutch a father's heart and wrench his soul with bitterness because many times they must all go cold and hungry.

Saw Money For Family. Then came the man thought, the opportunity. He was offered big money if he would consent to make moonshine whiskey. The art of distilling is common knowledge in the hills. Shea, along with his neighbors, well knew all the tricks of the distiller's trade. He thought he saw a chance to make the money needed so desperately by his wife and babies. So he accepted the offer and started up his still.

But it did not take long for the law-grim, inexorable and omnipotent—to reach out its relentless hand into the home of George Shea and hale him before the bar of his peers to answer for his crime. Today the wife avers that there were "men higher up" responsible for leading her husband into his trouble, who went free. What, though, does that matter? The facts are that the husband is behind the bars, that he is powerless to help his helpless ones, and that they are, impossible though it may seem, infinitely worse off than they were before he began to make the illicit liquor.

Two months ago the youngest child was born. The father had never seen it. With only the 12-year-old boy to work for a living, there seemed no hope in West Virginia. So the mother sold all their belongings that she could, left the rented farm home, and came to Atlanta, "to see day."

The little brood arrived in the big city last Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday they were permitted to see the man behind the bars, clad in the blue denim of the federal prison costume. Saturday they are to see him once more. Then they will go, to live somehow, some way, with only the hope of the reunion in the future, when "dad" is once more free, with only the dream of happy days to come to support them in the meantime.

On Tuesday afternoon, after having spent their time in wandering through the streets, penniless, hungry and with no place to go for the night, the boy picked up the courage to ask the advice of a policeman.

"We haven't any money, hardly," he said. "We haven't rested or eaten all day. What are we to do?" The officer directed them to the Rescue Workers' home on Ellis street and here, since then, they have found food, tender care and shelter. They are to go to the prison once more on Saturday and see the husband and father. Then they face the mysterious future.

There is, however, a grandfather in Kentucky. He is a farmer, and poor himself, but his daughter believes that if she could only get back, some girlhood home, she and the little grandchildren would be cared for somehow. So she is hoping and praying that the money necessary for railroad fare will be furnished. They have promised her at the home that it will come, and even they don't know. For there are many demands, there are helpless mothers—mere girls, many of them—and fatherless babes, who must be cared for. There is no income beyond the coins that sympathetic souls drop into the tambourines of their street collectors. Every dollar that comes in is needed, long before they receive it, for absolute necessities.

However, they have faith, sure and simple, that someone will be found willing to furnish the forty or fifty dollars needed to carry Mrs. Shea and her children to her father's home at Waynesboro, Ky.

Then, they believe some more. They believe that the means to conduct their home until January 1 will likewise be found. After January 1, if Atlanta responds to the community chest campaign, they will have the funds necessary to maintain their home. For they have been included in the community chest campaign.

Colonel Burton, though, is wondering about the time between now and January 1.

"The money'll come, somehow," he says. "I have faith and I am clinging to my faith with both hands and all my heart and soul. If I did not, I could not go on helping these helpless women and babies, these unfortunate in life's battle, who have only us to look to."

In the meantime Mrs. Shea, with Albert, Eula, Evelyn, Blanche, George, Jr., and the baby, wait to say goodbye on Saturday to the dearest man in all the world to them, and, waiting, trust that the God in whom they have been taught to believe, will send one of His servants to help them on their journey to Kentucky.

City Tax Payers Ready for Final Taxpayers' Rush

The city tax office was preparing Thursday for a final rush of taxpayers to get their accounts with the city settled before the bars go down October 15 and the delinquent penalties go on.

Nearly two-thirds of the total tax income of the city for 1923 is not collected; $1,874,721.55 had been been paid Thursday; $4,690,000 remains to be paid before October 15. On that date, delinquent tax payers will be assessed at 10 per cent penalty and after five days of grace will have to pay also $1.50 fee for collection of 11 fa and 7 per cent interest from October 15 to the time the taxes are paid.

B. Graham West, comptroller, said that if present estimates are born out by collections, the city will end the year with the smallest deficit in recent years, probably not more than $50,000, to be carried over for payment in 1924. The October finance sheet, approved by the aldermanic Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—(adv.)

PRETTY CASHIER TO RETURN TODAY TO FACE CHARGES

Miss Helen O'Connor, pretty young cashier for the Broad Street market, at 75 South Broad street, who is accused of the theft of $1,020.13 which her employer entrusted to her to place in a local bank, probably will reach Atlanta this morning in the custody of Detective J. J. Cowan, who was dispatched to bring her back from Jacksonville, Fla., where she was arrested at request of Captain T. O.

Sturdivant, of the plain clothes department.

An alleged confederate, Charles Gossett, of Decatur, is at liberty under a $2,000 bond. He was arrested Wednesday by officers under a warrant sworn out in the municipal court. Captain Sturdivant stated that, following Gossett's arrest, $200 of the money the girl is charged with misappropriating was recovered. He says that it had been lent to a friend by Gossett.

FOOT-EASY FLOORS!

That's Good for Business!

FOR its durability alone, a floor of Armstrong's Linoleum would be worth its cost in any place where the public walks.

But linoleum is more than durable. It makes a sanitary floor. It is virtually a seamless floor when properly laid. Dust on linoleum is all surface dust, easily and economically swept away. But linoleum is more than sanitary.

Linoleum's resiliency—a foot-easy quality

Linoleum is made of cork and oxidized linseed oil pressed onto strong burlap. Now, cork is at once tough and resilient, as you know. So is linoleum—resilient to a degree that makes it the truly comfortable floor for customers to stand on and for employees to walk on.

This quality makes walking or working on linoleum a pleasure and insures long wear. Moreover, linoleum makes a silent floor—especially desirable in a business floor.

Resiliency, durability, cleanliness, silence—these are qualities all business floors should have; these are the qualities linoleum has. Add to them economy of upkeep and positive, dignified beauty, and you have a floor that touches the apex of what modern business floors should be.

Dad Is Antidote To Flapper

HOUSE APART TEST MAY BE PROOF

If He Compels Her Respect

Wide discussion has occurred in literary and social circles as a result of a decision reached this week by Richard Bennett, the noted actor, and his wife, to try a domestic experiment in remaining happily married but living apart.

The stage couple who for many years had been the pride of their profession as a living denial that stage folk are unsuccessful in love moved into separate apartments, each taking an elder daughter to share in the housework.

How will it work? Will the daughters be happy? These and numerous other questions have been threshed out in gatherings from Greenwich Village to the Players' club—and the discussion continues.

Margaret Wilson, authoress, who achieved fame recently as winner of the annual Harper Brothers' novel competition, was asked to give her opinion of the experiment. Her article follows:

BY MARGARET WILSON.

New York, October 4.—When I heard that the Richard Bennetts had arranged to establish two homes with a daughter to manage each of them, without knowing the least thing personally about any of the four, I at once thought that the girl who was to be with her father had the best of the deal, for practically all girls have mothers, and they have by birth a feminine point of view. But few girls that I have known have had fathers—mature men with time and appreciation and love for them. The result of this masculine blunder is seen on every street of any city. I wish there is to be any more criticism of flappers it might be aimed with a true eye and a strong arm at their mothers—those preoccupied parents, those who are not interested in their children.

Feme Like Feme Men.

I notice that girls who have the rare privilege of companionship with interesting fathers and disinterested and plain-speaking brothers are as a rule freer than others from the prevailing feminine frivolities. Generally women of sense have had the use of fathers who lay down the law to the girls and struck straight from the shoulder saying: "You can't do this; and you'll quit that," but such men, of course, have dear and no impenetrable session was indefinitely postponed in the state district court by agreement of counsel.

It was agreed that the hearing shall be held at any time upon from 48 to 72 hours after the filing of the petition. The court then directed that the case in abeyance pending a decision in another injunction action brought by the state to prevent the state election board from certifying the returns from Tuesday's state election to the secretary of state.

DELA SOLONS' CASE BY AGREEMENT.

Oklahoma City, October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—A hearing on an application for an injunction to bar Governor J. C. Walton and his civil and military agents from interfering with their attempts to hold an impeachment session was indefinitely postponed in the state district court by agreement of counsel.

It was agreed that the hearing shall be held at any time upon from 48 to 72 hours after the filing of the petition. The court then directed that the case in abeyance pending a decision in another injunction action brought by the state to prevent the state election board from certifying the returns from Tuesday's state election to the secretary of state.

OKLAHOMA TAKES BREATH DURING LULL.

Oklahoma City, October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The mad rush of the last few days momentarily stopped and Oklahoma tonight took a breath of repose and conjectured as to the future.

With the court battle between Governor J. C. Walton and members of the Oklahoma house of representatives halted until next Tuesday, citizens whose attention has been fastened on the state of affairs between the executive and legislative branch of the state government, turned to matters that had been forced into the background and realized that martial law under which they have lived for nearly three weeks has become military rule.

In Oklahoma City, the military court that was convened to deal with alleged lawlessness of the Ku Klux Klan has been disbanded, but the grip of the military has been removed from the city in every respect. Military headquarters at a downtown hotel have been abandoned and persons appearing on the streets after midnight no longer need pass signed by the commander of the forces of occupation. There are no patrols.

Likewise in Tulsa, the sole remaining activity of the military is the court of inquiry. This still is in session but guards nowhere else are to be seen. J. H. Hester, military officer, was declared that less than a dozen troopers now are on duty in Tulsa.

Although Governor Walton declined today to reveal his plans, followers of the situation were inclined to the belief that the military regime rapidly is drawing to a close.

EDDYVILLE SIEGE NEAR DENOUEMENT

to three the number of prison guards slain by the desperadoes in their dash for freedom early Wednesday.

Falling to win clear of the prison grounds the desperate trio, Monte Walters, Lawrence Griffith and Harry Ferland, took cover in the mess hall and since have held at bay prison guards, members of troop C, national guard machine gun company from Hopkinsville, and citizen marksmen who volunteered their aid to the authorities.

State and prison officials have indicated that the major offensive launched at this afternoon would be sustained until the barricaded convicts were dead or captured.

A terse message from Governor Edwin P. Morrow to Warden John Chilton late today directed that the desperadoes be routed "if it takes every man in the state and every dollar in the treasury."

"We are going to get them if we have to raise the building to do it," Warden Chilton's comment on the governor's message.

Death in the prison hospital here of V. B. Matting, and in a Paducah hospital of W. H. Gilbert, brought the number of prison guard victims of the convict gunmen's pistols to three. Guard Hodges Cunningham was shot dead when the trio initiated their dash for freedom.

Two national guardsmen, under protection of improvised metal shields, were able to enter the ground floor of the two-story mess hall today and release the convicts. A shift of wind drove the gas back upon the attackers and the two men, affected by the gas, were forced to abandon the attempt to capture the convicts.

Convicts' Fire Silent.

After dark tonight besiegers who ventured from cover were not fired upon by the convicts. The desperadoes were dead or desperately wounded. In view, however, of the possibility that the convicts would be able to conserve a small stock of ammunition for a last desperate stand when the attackers should enter the building, it was determined to maintain a guard about the place tonight and await daylight for further action.

That one at least of the barricaded building's defenders was alive was proved soon after firing ceased when a man attempted to leave by the main doorway. Guards opened fire and the man disappeared back into the darkness.

Kiwanians Coming.

Tuesday will be Kiwanis Club day. The 45 Kiwanis clubs of the state have been invited by the Atlanta Kiwanis club to be in Atlanta on that occasion to participate in the day's festivities. Arthur Brooke, president of the Atlanta club, has been selected to preside at the occasion one of the features of a state convention to precede the district convention at Columbus this month.

Kiwanians and their wives have been invited to Atlanta for next Tuesday and hundreds of them have accepted the invitation.

The festivities will begin with a big parade through the streets of the city, beginning at 12:30 o'clock, and starting from T. E. Maffett's automobile barn, 189 West Peachtree.

Through the courtesy of Manager Louis Haase, of the Atlanta theater, the Al G. Field's minstrel men and band will participate in the parade and be the special guests of the Kiwanians during the day. Luncheon will be served at the fair grounds, at which time Professor Milton Jarnigan, of the State Agricultural College, will be the principal speaker. Professor Jarigan will talk on agricultural topics and on live stock. The Kiwanis clubs throughout the nation are now engaged in encouraging in every way the development of the agricultural, live stock and hog industries.

Minstrels to Entertain.

Billie Church and Jack Edwards, two of the minstrel stars, will furnish the entertainment. The famous band of the Field's minstrels will provide the music for the luncheon. After the dinner the visitors will be escorted over the grounds, to the horse races, to the Johnny Jones midway and to the fireworks.

President Brooks announces to the Kiwanians attending from out of the city that as Tuesday is the regular meeting day all over the state, those who attend the Atlanta fair on that day will be credited with attendance at home.

The flower show in the Woman's building, under the direction of Mrs. W. P. Anderson, will be an interesting event this year. Atlanta florists have shown great enthusiasm over the show and have extended every aid possible. Dahlias will be on display Monday and Tuesday. Plants and cut flowers will be shown Wednesday and Thursday and on Friday and Saturday the chrysanthemums will be in their glory. The flower show, along with the beautiful booths and decorations in the Woman's building, will make it one of the most attractive spots in the grounds.

Cattle, sheep and hogs will make up another exhibit which will be more than a display. Georgia will be well represented in the display, and there are magnificent specimens that will be shown from other states.

Every indication points to a great fair, and the show is the hope of President Oscar Mills and General Manager Stripling that from every standpoint it will be a success.

"Bread Baking Contest."

Athens, Ga., October 4.—When the Southeastern fair convenes in Atlanta one of its most important divisions will be the "bread baking contest" in which scores of pretty Georgia school girls will compete. They will represent the ten agricultural districts of the state, having won in the county and district contests which closed last month.

The winning teams, it was learned at the state college of agriculture, under whose direction the contests were held, are as follows:

The Elbert county team, composed of Ophelia Gaines, Fudine Richardson and Homerelle Childs, finished with 1,608 points. Miss Lula Peak, home economics agent, trained them. Nellie Dowdy, Ruby Chambers and Johnnie Paulk, with Mrs. Madge B. Merritt, home demonstration agent, composed the winning team from Glynn county. They gathered a total of 1,604 points.

Fannin county was represented by Mary Wells, Daisy Scott, and Annie Ruth Sykes, with Miss Maggie Be-the, home agent. Their score was 1,573 points.

Miss Mary Norman led the winning team from Newton county, which was composed of Sallie Ruth Meadows, Pansy Ewing and Irene Eddleman. Score, 1,576 points.

Crisp county was returned the victor in that district with Miss Lou Hamilton, the director of the team, sponsoring Jewell James, Artie Pickett and Edna Hall. Score 1,544 points.

Bibb County Wins.

Bibb county won the honors in the sixth district contest. Miss Frances Love trained the winning team which was composed of Mary Nellie Heath, Veta Dickson and Carrie Frank Orute. Score, 1,529 points.

Mary Doreen, Annie Peyton and Janie McMillan won the prizes in the ninth district contest, representing Habersham county. Score, 1,486 points. Mrs. Leslie Callaway trained the team.

Muscogee county won in that district with a team composed of Elizabeth Allen, Rheta Watt and Vivian Livingston. Score, 1,475 points. Miss Jessie Norton was director.

Campbell county, represented by Thelma Boyd, Janie Rivers and Martha Harris, won the contest in their district. Score, 1,419 points. Miss Ruth Redwine was trainer.

The winners in Gordon county were Melba Littlefield, Lula Mae Roe and Ella Putney.

The winners in the contest at the southeastern fair will go to Chicago to the international exposition and the winning team at that place will be given a trip to Europe.

Miss Etta Colclough, bread specialist at the state college, directed the various contests.

Baby Show Entries.

Another flood of entries for the Baby Show at the Southeastern fair poured into registration headquarters at 77 Peachtree street Thursday. Saturday will be the last day for registering babies. The age limit is five years.

The show and contest is open to all.

MISS STIRLING REACHES SEMI-FINALS OF TOURNAMENT

Jackets Put Through Light Work for V. M. I. Game

Pinkey Hunt Will Be Used At Quarterback Position With Wycoff at Fullback

Reeves and Williams to Run at Halves. Squad Is Instructed in Different Kickoff Formations—Squad Is Improved.

The Yellow Jacket varsity devoted considerable time yesterday to kick-offs. Coach Alexander lined his team up to receive and thoroughly drilled them in the various duties incurred during the return of the kickoff.

Then, several times, the ball was kicked to the varsity, which returned it up the field. Soon the sides were reversed, and the varsity had a few practices at kicking off.

Douglas Wycoff is probably the best kickoff man Tech has ever had, but none. Joe Guyon was exceptional in this place, but even he could not equal some of the boots which Doug sent sailing down the field yesterday. On two consecutive occasions, he kicked the ball 80 yards in the air. He kicked from the 40-yard line, and the ball landed behind the end zone, exactly 80 yards away. He kicked off about five times, and each ball went behind the goal posts. In other words, his minimum kick was 60 yards.

Kicking off is one of the most important duties which a team is called upon to perform, that and punting the ball. Last year Tech was weak in the kickoff place, two touchdowns being scored on the kickoff by the opponents.

It happened most all the time that Tech would kick the ball down the field just far enough to give the opposition a fine chance to return it. And the year before, Tech suffered a great disaster on the kickoff when Glenn Killinger grabbed the ball on his 10 yard line and galloped the length of the field without being touched by a Tech man. Many attribute the defeat largely to the psychological influence of this run.

But, Tech has a great day in this department, and there is no reason why good play along this line cannot be revived. Dewey Scarborough, in 1919 ran 65 yards for a touchdown on the kickoff.

The run came in the closing moments of the Georgia game. Tech got some nice run backs in 1920, with Red Barron or "Buck" Flowers carrying the ball. There is ample speed in the backfield this year to do some real returning of kickoffs. As soon as the team commences to clip men as a unit, then will some good gains be made with return of kickoff as the medium.

Farnsworth Out in Uniform. "Bip" Farnsworth was out in uniform yesterday, and ran signals for a time. His injury is just about healed, and he will be in good shape by Saturday. This certainly is good news to all who saw "Bip" play last Saturday. He is not big, nor hefty, but he can run a line for his size. And when he can not go through it, there is always three or four yards waiting for him over the top. He is a good man to have in the backfield. He is fast, shifty and a player with a fighting heart. He never lets up when in a game.

Incidentally, Tech had a very snappy signal drill yesterday. The men went to work just after they had warmed up by chasing punts. There was probably more drive in signal drill yesterday than in any practice so far this year. This is a fine indication that the men are willing and are working with their all in preparation for the game which comes on Saturday.

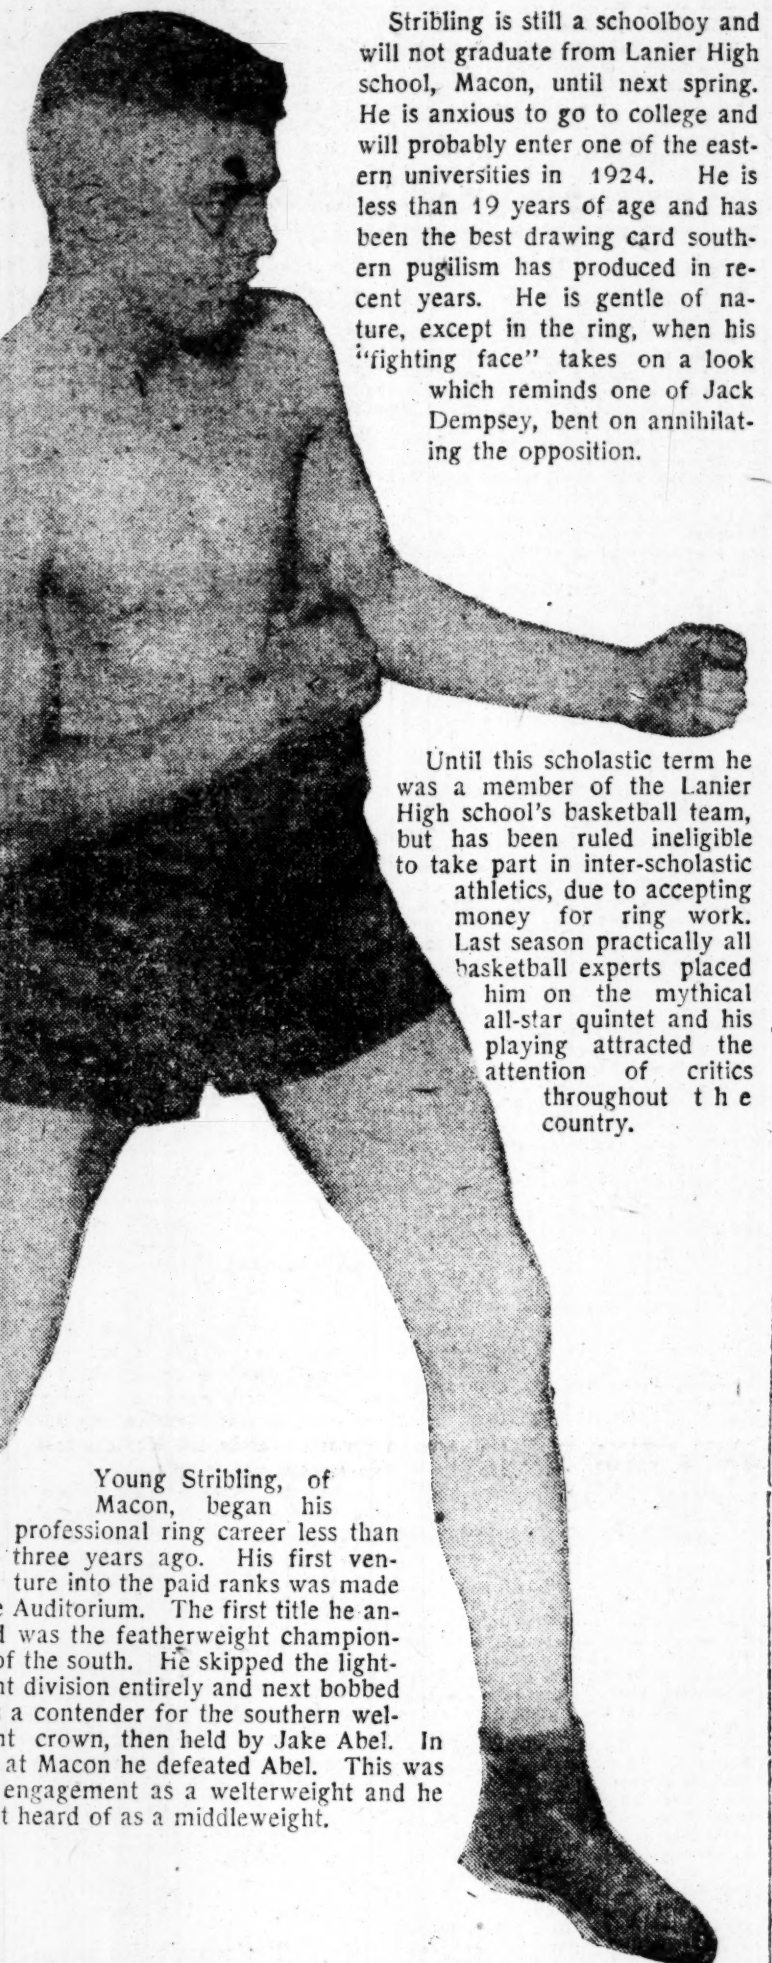

It seems fairly well established now that Hunt will play quarterback Saturday. If Hunt goes to quarter, Reeves and Williams will no doubt play the halfback positions, and of course Wycoff fullback.

That combination will give Tech a perfectly balanced backfield. Williams and Reeves are of about the same speed and size. Hunt is a good field general and fine punter to take Jack McDonough's role of obtaining the yard or two when needed. And then, Doug will be relied upon for the long distance kicking and real line smashing. That is going to be some backfield before the year is out. Mark that prediction.

Young Stribling, Macon School Boy, Reigned As King for Three Hours

As was expected by most of the ring dopesters who were familiar with Stribling's tactics, the Macon youngster used his left hand to pile up points. He has the speed of a lightweight and is gradually learning the art of correct punching. He resorted to his right hand yesterday far more than he has in any of his fights this year, which would indicate he will soon blossom as a two-fisted fighter. He is stronger than most of the men in the light-heavyweight division and has displayed marked ability to take punishment.

Young Stribling, of Macon, began his professional ring career less than three years ago. His first venture into the paid ranks was made at the Auditorium. The first title he annexed was the featherweight championship of the south. He skipped the lightweight division entirely and next bobbed up as a contender for the southern welterweight crown, then held by Jake Abel. In a battle at Macon he defeated Abel. This was his last engagement as a welterweight and he was next heard of as a middleweight.

Stribling is still a schoolboy and will not graduate from Lanier High school, Macon, until next spring. He is anxious to go to college and will probably enter one of the eastern universities in 1924. He is less than 19 years of age and has been the best drawing card southern pugilism has produced in recent years. He is gentle of nature, except in the ring, when his "fighting face" takes on a look which reminds one of Jack Dempsey, bent on annihilating the opposition.

Until this scholastic term he was a member of the Lanier High school's basketball team, but has been ruled ineligible to take part in inter-scholastic athletics, due to accepting money for ring work. Last season practically all basketball experts placed him on the mythical all-star quintet and his playing attracted the attention of critics throughout the country.

MARIST PLAYS TODAY.

The Marist eleven will open its season today by playing the strong Oglethorpe freshmen and scrub team combined on the Marist campus this afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to an announcement made by Coach Joe Bean. This will be the first game of the season for the prep, and a good crowd is expected. The admission fee will be 25 cents.

BOXING SHOW IS STAGED

A large crowd of fans witnessed the free boxing show staged last night at the home of the Overland Automobile company on Peachtree. In the main event Billy Dale and Irish Benard fought a six-round draw. This bout was in the nature of a grudge affair.

Young Collins lost to Young Regan in the other fight of the evening. The bouts were greatly enjoyed by the large number of fans that were present.

ARTHUR TEW ENTERS RACE

The entrance of Arthur Tew, local speed star and auto racer, into the southeastern fair auto races booked for the opening day tomorrow afternoon, has put the big speed classic in the head line class of local sports as well as in the national and international class.

Tew is a local garage man, and his experience covers parts of Mexico, Texas, and the southwest, a field known in all parts as the stiffest and at the same time the greatest area for automobile races in the world. Tew managed to come out at the long end of the horn during his western campaign, and he has been busy for the last few weeks turning out a new car which he says will stay up among the best of them in the professional events.

The "No. 2" Tew mount is a Roamer Special, with a 90-wheel base. Tew bases his hopes on being able to beat the champions and near champions in the sharp turns which characterize the local mile oval.

He has been entered in several of the sport events and in lieu of the Tew entry the fair management is now scouting Atlanta and surrounding territory in search of other race material so that a purely Atlanta race may be run off.

Everything is in readiness, track speaking, for the speed contest, but race officials are hoping for a Friday rain so that the oval may be free from dust and hard packed when the be-goggled devils line up their distance machines.

NEWMAN HIGH PLAYS TODAY

Newman, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—After a month of strenuous practice the Newman high school football team is ready for its opening game Friday with West Point High. Although the material is rather light and only three of last year's letter men are back, a winner is expected on account of the marked ability of Coach McElwain, the enthusiastic work of the team and the hearty cooperation of the school.

A hard schedule has been arranged and real football will be necessary for a successful season.

The Schedule.
October 5—West Point at West Point.
October 12—Griffin at Griffin.
October 19—West Point at Newman.
October 26—Decatur at Decatur.
November 2—LaGrange at Newman.
November 9—Barnesville A. & M. at Newman.
November 17—Boys' High of Atlanta at Newman.
November 23—Open.

Miss Collett, Present Champ, Loses to Mrs. Vanderbeck Of Philadelphia on Thursday

Miss Stirling Has Easy Time With Mrs. Melvin Jones, Winning Match 7 and 5. Miss Cummings Beats Miss Litch.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Rye, N. Y., October 4.—Out of the golfing past today came a former champion, Mrs. C. H. Vanderbeck, of Philadelphia, with a game so accurate and faultless that Glenna Collett, the Providence girl, who became queen of the links last year, could not offset it with fighting spirit, and the tournament for the 1923 women's title took on a new aspect. Miss Collett was defeated, 2 and 1.

The other three matches of the third round Miss Alexia Stirling, a three-time national champion, eliminated Mrs. Melvin Jones, of Chicago, a western titleholder, of other years, 7 and 5; Miss Edith Cummings of Chicago, defeated Miss Edith Litch, of England, 6 and 4, and Mrs. Elizabeth Harlan Goss, of Balastron, N. J., won from Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Merion, Pa., 1 up.

Was Steady.
Mrs. Vanderbeck's victory was accomplished through a straight, steady game, that a bit more than equalled the 1922 champion's prodigious driving. There was nothing in the Providence girls' game today that could be compared to her fine exhibition yesterday against Miss Dorothy Litch, whom she defeated, 8 and 7, after shooting the first nine in 37, one under women's par.

A maulie shot over a ravine on the short second hole by Mrs. Vanderbeck started the process of eliminating. Miss Collett was but 15 feet from the pin. Mrs. Vanderbeck chipped to within eight feet of the pin and sank for a par three, while Miss Collett took three putts.

Mrs. Vanderbeck became two up on the fifth when Miss Collett dabbled two iron approach shots, but she lost the sixth to the champion with a short approach. She again became two up on the seventh with a par three, made with another eight-foot putt.

On the eighth, Miss Collett became three down. The ninth was halved likewise the tenth, and on the eleventh with both on in two Miss Collett's approach putts bumped. Mrs. Vanderbeck's ball into the cup giving her a three and the hole, making Miss Collett four down. She played the next three holes faultlessly and was but one down when they went to the 15th tee. The fifteenth was halved, and then, but on the sixteenth Mrs. Vanderbeck became four down when she holed a long putt for a par four. That was the end as the seventeenth was halved with five.

Mrs. Vanderbeck was national champion in 1915, winning the title on the course of the Owensboro Country club, by defeating Mrs. W. A. Gavin, of England. The Philadelphia woman has been playing excellent golf through all the rounds of the present tournament. Her card of 87 was the lowest, excepting Miss Stirling's 84, in the qualifying round on Monday.

Gets Good Start.
By winning the first five holes in a row, Miss Stirling practically settled all doubts as to the outcome of her match with Mrs. Jones. At the first hole, Mrs. Jones hooked her drive and she fell short on her second shot at the next hole. Both these were won in par figures by the former Atlanta golfer. The latter reached the turn in 41 where she stood 5 up. She lost the tenth, but then captured the next three and the match. The cards were:

Miss Stirling, out . . . 435 545 465—41
Mrs. Jones, out . . . 516 655 456—49
Miss Stirling, in . . . 4 3 5 5
Mrs. Jones, in . . . 3 5 6

RECORD IS SHATTERED

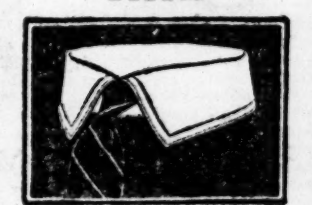

St. Louis, October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tris Speaker, of the Cleveland Indians, shattered a record of 33 years when he drove out the 57th two-bagger of the season in the seventh inning of today's game with St. Louis.

The previous record of 56 two-base hits in one season was made by Ed Delahanty, of Philadelphia, in 1890. In today's game Speaker also hit a home-run and two singles out of four times to the plate.

FORT WORTH PANTHERS WIN DIXIE CHAMPIONSHIP

Joe Pate, Veteran Southpaw, Holds New Orleans Pelicans To Four Hits, Final Score, 7-1

Dixie Walker Was Sent to Showers in Third Inning, But Martina Fared No Better With Panther Batters.

Panther Park, Fort Worth, October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Joe Pate, veteran southpaw, held the New Orleans Pelicans to four hits in the final score, 7-1. Martina, who was sent to the showers in the third inning, fared no better with the Panther batters.

Pate was complete master of the situation, and except in the sixth inning, when he was hit by a double by Bogart and a single by Ewaldt, he was perfect. He struck out six batters, and his curve ball was breaking nicely, and for the most part, the Pelicans were "flooded" by the ball around the infield—slow rollers or pop flies.

The hitting of the Panthers was a direct contrast, two of the drives being home runs, and the greater part of the Cat outs being on hard hit balls. Sears and Edington contributed the four-base hits, each time a runner being on base.

Walker knocked out Martina in the third inning, and the Panthers were hit hard and retired under fire in the third inning. Joe Martina, taking the third base, was hit by a double by Bogart, but failed to check the Texans' hitting.

The victory gave the Cats the series four games to two, with one tie, and is the third that the Texans have won. In 1922, Mobile succeeded in downing the Fort Worth club in the only series the Southern association representatives have won in four years. The Fort Worth club has played the Cats in each of the series.

Today's game was a one-sided affair. The third such game of the series. The Cats won one game, 11 to 0, and the Cats another, 10 to 1. The other battles were hard fought. The Cats opened their artillery in the first inning. Calvo doubled and was sacrificed to third. Edington

Women Golfers from All Parts of South Enter Meet

How Young Stribling, Macon Boy, Fought Light Heavyweight Champion to a Draw

The crowd got on edge awaiting the announcer's finish. The men met in the middle of the ring and danced around. Stribling shot a left to McTigue's head but was blocked. He shot another one and it breezed by the champion's left ear. The champion landed one to the left kidney and Stribling put in a right to the head. They feinted and Stribling backed into a neutral corner. They went into a clinch and Stribling landed a light left to the jaw. In the following clinch both fighters played for the head and both were clever in their blocking. Stribling blocked a straight left with his shoulder, but McTigue got a light one to the face. Stribling rushed but McTigue blocked off a left jab as the bell struck.

ROUND TWO. They danced around at the start of this round and clinched. They sparring and Stribling jumped at the champion. They went into a clinch and Stribling backed away. He landed heavily on the champion's face and shot a left to the stomach. He followed it with a left jab to the face and put across two more as he pushed the Irishman against the ropes. His left was working heavily at the champion's stomach and McTigue was blocking nicely. Stribling leaped into the air but failed to follow with a blow and the champion laughed. In the clinch McTigue tried to work the rabbit punch but his blows were light and they were in a clinch when the gong sounded.

ROUND THREE. They went into a clinch and broke away into more feinting by McTigue. They danced around the ring. Stribling showed signs of forcing the fighting but the champion was taking matters calmly. Stribling shot a right to the jaw and McTigue attempted to retaliate, but was blocked. The Georgia boy got in a right jab to the face bringing a cheer from the crowd. The referee separated them at Stribling leaped over the champion on the ropes. McTigue shot a right to the chin but Stribling ducked another one. Stribling landed a right to the face and blood began to trickle from a cut on the champion's nose. They were sparring at the bell.

ROUND FOUR. They mixed it up at the bell and exchanged blows to the body. Stribling rushed McTigue who ducked and the challenger almost went through the ropes. McTigue got in a left to the head as Stribling passed by. Stribling continued to rush the champion, but McTigue clinched and little damage was done. The youngster shot a left to the jaw but it had little effect. McTigue in a clinch shot a right to the kidney. Stribling's left touched the champion lightly. The fighters now appeared to be getting up a sweat and Stribling landed a left heavily to the jaw and in the clinches McTigue pounded the boy's kidneys. They were in a clinch against the ropes when the round ended.

ROUND FIVE. They sparred in the center of the ring and McTigue shot a left to the stomach but it was blocked. The boy missed a tremendous haymaker and rushed the champion against the ropes and landed wide swings to the champion's head. McTigue shot over a right and Stribling rushed him landing a blow to the face. The challenger leaped again and landed a heavy one on the back of the head. They clinched and on the break away, exchanged light blows. They went into another clinch and the fighting was weak. Stribling, however, in coming out of the clinch landed heavily on McTigue's jaw and the champion went into the ropes. They clinched and on the break away the champion got one to Stribling's head. They were in a clinch when the bell rang.

ROUND SIX. As the round started Stribling landed on the champion's chin and they went into a clinch. They began to mill fast and went into another clinch. The referee experienced difficulty in getting them separated. Stribling led with a left to the jaw and danced around. He shot a right and left but they were blocked. They clinched and the champion shot one to the kidneys. McTigue landed a right to the head and received a left in return. They mixed it in the clinches and the fighters went up against the ropes. Stribling's right landed on McTigue's face and they clinched. He pushed one to the champion's stomach but was blocked. Stribling shot a left and in the clinch the champion pounded the challenger's kidneys. McTigue led a left to the head and they were mixing it lightly at the bell.

ROUND SEVEN. McTigue rushed but was stopped with a right to the head. They danced around and the challenger bored in with both fists flying. He landed twice on McTigue's head and they went into a clinch. They feinted and Stribling led with a right to the head and pushed the champion to the ropes. McTigue sent out a right but it was blocked. They parried and went into a clinch. Stribling landed heavily on the champion's jaw and the crowd cheered wildly. They fought with the champion up against the ropes and the referee had to come between them. McTigue in the clinch that followed continued to pound on Stribling's kidneys and the challenger shot over a left at the bell. The crowd was cheering the challenger during the minute's intermission.

ROUND EIGHT. They clinched. In the in-fighting Stribling led with a left which landed on the champion's jaw. He pushed McTigue up against the ropes and got a clean one with his left to McTigue's jaw. In the in-fighting the referee had to tug and pull at them and he made them shake hands on the break away. Stribling continued to pummel the champion with lefts to the jaw and he was forcing the fighting. He landed on McTigue's jaw and they exchanged light blows in a clinch. Stribling swung a haymaker which flew over the champion's head. Stribling shot a left to the jaw and they went into another clinch. McTigue's blows appeared to lack steam and they were fighting in a clinch at the gong. Both fighters exchanged right and lefts to the head after the bell sounded.

ROUND NINE. They danced about the center of the ring, and after a short mix up they clinched and both exchanged light blows. McTigue led a right to the jaw which Stribling blocked and Stribling swung a wide one which shot the champion up against the ropes. In rushing him, the challenger stumbled to the floor but was up in an instant and they exchanged blows to the head. They clinched and McTigue continued to pound the boy's body. McTigue shot a left uppercut which was blocked and they mixed it up. They continued to mix with little damage. Stribling showed McTigue to the ropes and they exchanged light punches to the stomach. Stribling shot a hard right which landed on the champion's head and they were in a clinch at the end of the round.

ROUND TEN. They shook hands and Stribling shot a left to the face, then another and then fought furiously with the crowd yelling for the challenger to knock out his opponent. Stribling pushed the champion against the ropes, they clinched and the referee brought them to the middle of the ring in separating them. The champion landed a right to the jaw. In a mix-up the challenger shot a left to the jaw, Mike retaliating with a right blow behind the head. They mixed it furiously and clinched. Stribling landed a left to the jaw. He shot across another left and clinched. McTigue pounded the back of the challenger's head, and mixed it furiously against the ropes. They clinched and again Stribling led to the face. They were fighting furiously at the bell and continued to after the gong had sounded.

McTigue's guarantee amounted to only $7,500, and not $10,000 as has been officially announced. Local has been claiming that it was an apparent surprise to Jacobs and McTigue that this amount was raised.

It was also declared that the champion regarded the fighting ability of the Macon boy too light. The challenger's appearance, speed and punching power awakened McTigue to the fact that his title was at stake for only $7,500.

Then came the Beckett-Carpenter fight in London. The "drooping lily of France" won and McTigue was challenged immediately. Offers began to pour in here from all sections of the United States, guaranteeing the champion anywhere, according to his manager, from $40,000 to $75,000 for a bout with Carpenter.

These offers were held up pending the outcome of this fight despite McTigue's announcement that he regarded Stribling as easy, and, with a shrug of his shoulders, he announced that the fight would be over in three rounds.

Pre-Fight Statements. After both fighters had hauled down their training flags and the usual "pink of condition" pre-fight statements were issued, the champion noticed the sting in his left thumb growing worse. He decided that a drug properly administered would deaden the pain and allow the fight to go on.

A physician was summoned and an X-ray picture of the swollen hand was advised. This disclosed, according to a signed statement, issued by four doctors, "an imperfectly healed fracture of the metacarpal bone of the left thumb."

The fight was called off. McTigue refunded the local post of the American

Many Prizes To Be Awarded Winners of Various Events In Brookhaven Tourney

No Entrance Fee Is Being Charged by the Officials in Charge—Others Are Urged to Enter Big Tournament.

BY MRS. CLARENCE BRADLEY. The invitation golf tournament which will be staged over the Brookhaven course starting Monday morning, will be one of the most successful events ever held in the south. The committee on invitations announces there will be entries from as far north as Ohio and as far south as Louisiana. The entries are pouring in every day and a large delegation is expected from every southern state.

All women golfers of Atlanta who wish to play in this tournament are urged to send their names to Milton Dargan, Jr., Capital City club, or phone Mrs. T. T. Williams, Hemlock 14841, in order that pairings may be made for the qualifying round Monday morning.

There will be no entrance fee charged and any woman is eligible to play in this tournament.

The Atlanta Woman's Golf association sent out invitations to its members. But owing to the fact that a number of women golfers in Atlanta are not members of the association, or affiliated with a club, the committee on invitations was unable to send them invitations. The chairman of the tournament committee wants it clearly understood that any woman is eligible to play in this tournament and the committee extends an invitation through The Constitution to can legion the amount paid him. Everything appeared satisfactory until the fight fans began to pour into town at the break of dawn and then things began to take on another color.

A crowd immediately dispersed from McTigue's hotel, which was under the protection of the police, began to move toward the driving arena where the battle was scheduled to take place. Before dispersing the crowd listened to a speech from the lips of the champion.

"I'll fight him with one hand," McTigue shouted.

A member of the throng yelled: "Cold feet?"

McTigue retorted: "Did you fight for your country like I did?"

The fight between McTigue and Stribling had been called off suddenly at an early hour this morning, when doctors discovered, after X-ray examination, that McTigue's left thumb was not in perfect fighting condition. Placards with the champion's photograph printed on yellow-colored background were being circulated in the business section of the city.

Other unfavorable signs against the champion's action appeared on the rest and end of automobiles.

Other Birmingham Stars. The other entrants from Birmingham are Mrs. Paul Chaffin, Mrs. G. B. De Bardeleben, Mrs. Robert Thames, Mrs. J. W. Mason, Mrs. W. G. Harrison and several others.

Marietta will be represented by Mrs. W. A. Dupree, Mrs. P. D. Hecker and several others.

Mrs. Max Garber, of Fort Benning, Columbus, Ga., has entered.

Toledo will be represented by Mrs. Myra Seymour, who will be the guest of Mrs. Robert Jones during the tournament.

Mrs. Marjorie Allen and Mrs. Robinson will represent Montgomery. Mrs. Allen will be the guest of Mrs. Cyrus Strickler.

From Knoxville are coming Mrs. Margaret Ashe and Mrs. Kirk Gibson.

The putting and approaching contest will be held on No. 10 green. The driving contest will be held from the original ladies' tee on Number 11. On several holes the committee has arranged ladies' tees. Complete changes will be announced later.

Fine Action in Preliminary Bouts Many See "Strib" Fight Draw

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Ringside, Columbus, Ga., October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—A referee's decision over "Kid" Jack Wofford, of Miami, Fla., at the end of their six-round bout. Wofford took a great deal of punishment.

"Pa" Stribling, father and manager of the youthful challenger in the main bout, arrived at the ringside during the second preliminary. His boy was stored away in a small house outside the arena. "Pa" Stribling said his boy was in a pink of condition, in answer to many inquiries from the ringside.

"Pa" Stribling announced that in event Young Stribling won this afternoon, he had signed a contract with McTigue to fight in New York at an early date.

"Gene" Poyner, of Columbus, Ga., was awarded the decision over "Tank" Grantham, of Fort Benning, Ga., at the end of their six-round bout.

The referee was hissed and booed after holding up Poyner's hand. The men are lightweights.

Young Stribling, accompanied by his mother, made his appearance at the ringside clad in a bright blue bathrobe, which was muffled closely around his neck. He was given a big ovation. Dave Evans, of Birmingham, Ala., was selected as the referee in the third preliminary between "Kid" Suby, of Fort Benning, and "Jack" Dempsey, Denham, of Atlanta, which was scheduled for eight rounds.

Suby was awarded the decision. The decision appeared to have been a popular one. The men are lightweights.

The champion, it was announced, weighed in at 162 pounds. The challenger was 165 pounds.

Fight fans feeling in a fighting mood, began to filter into the arena at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The spectators came to the arena direct from McTigue's headquarters in a downtown hotel. They appeared in glee after having, they said, "checked an eleven and three-quarter hour effort on the part of the champion to chin the fight."

There was a grand rush for general admission seats when the gates were thrown open. There was plenty of police protection on hand together with military police from Fort Benning, located near here.

The twenty-ninth regiment band from the fort proved to be a regular band, the first on record in recent prize fighting encounters not to open up with a melody befalling the shortage of a well-known tropical fruit.

Indications were that many of the thousands of visitors who came here

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Slaton Honor Johnson - Atkins Bridal Party

A beautiful social event of Thursday evening was the buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall Slaton at their home on Peachtree road in compliment to Miss Jennie Johnson and Dr. Frank Miller Atkins, whose marriage will be a brilliant social event of Tuesday evening, October 9, at the St. Mark's Methodist church.

The wide living rooms were decorated with quantities of early fall flowers from the beautiful gardens in the rear of the home.

The supper table in the dining room was overlaid with a silver cloth and held in the center a silver bowl filled

Philathea Class To Be Hostesses to Agnes Scott Girls

The Philathea class of the Decatur Methodist Sunday school will entertain Friday evening, October 5, in the Sunday school rooms of the church in compliment to the Methodist students of Agnes Scott college.

In addition to the one hundred and twenty-five students, special guests of the occasion will be President and Mrs. J. R. McCain, Miss Nanette Hopkins, dean of Agnes Scott, and the members of the college faculty.

The rooms where the guests will be received will be elaborately decorated in purple and white, the college colors, and the ices will further carry out the color scheme.

Miss Bonnie Scott is chairman of entertainment for the evening and she will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Lawrence, president of the Philathea class. Bayne Gibson will be master of ceremonies.

Series of Social Affairs Are Given For Miss Johnson

Two of the most interesting social events of Thursday were the luncheon and bridge-tee complementing Miss Jennie Johnson, fete bride-elect, tendered by Miss Sarah Orme and Miss Elizabeth Kuntz.

Miss Kuntz's afternoon party was given at the home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. E. C. Kuntz, on Piedmont avenue. Quantities of azaleas, cosmos and dahlias were used in effective arrangement in the rooms where the game was played. The prizes were novelties.

Miss Orme was hostess at luncheon at her home on Peachtree street. The daintily appointed luncheon table held in the center a silver basket filled with pink roses and lavender ageratum, and the guests' places were marked with silhouette place cards of figures of a bride.

The guests at these affairs were the members of the wedding party, who were: Miss Johnson, Miss Alice Caldwell, of New York; Miss Margaret Nelson, Miss Margaret Morgan, Miss Sarah Orme, Miss Louise Inman, Miss Jennie Robinson and Miss Emmie Nixon.

Miss Margaret Pratt Will Be Honored With Further Parties

Miss Margaret Pratt, whose marriage to Winchester Hooper Bennett, of Hammond, La., will be a brilliant event of October 17, will be complimented further at a series of parties next week.

Mrs. Henry Pratt will be hostess Monday at a luncheon at her home in Decatur.

Mrs. Ware Holliday will entertain at a tea Tuesday, October 9.

Miss Frances Powell will entertain Wednesday at a tea at the home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. Arthur Powell, on Peachtree road.

Miss Henrietta Davis will be hostess at a bridge-tee at the Piedmont Driving club Thursday, October 11, for Miss Pratt and Miss Maude Carlton.

Friday Miss Ida Thomas will entertain at a luncheon at her home on Peachtree.

Mrs. Frank Downing and Miss Charlotte Wilkins will be hostess at a luncheon Saturday at the Capital City club.

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. Max Samuels will give a luncheon complimenting Miss Dora Goettinger, a bride-elect.

Mrs. Lynn Frederick Howard will give a bridge-tee in honor of Miss Jennie Johnson, a bride-elect.

Miss Martha Boykin will give a bridge-tee in compliment to Miss Margaret Pratt, a bride-elect.

Mrs. Annie Adair Foster will give a bridge-tee at the Druid Hills Golf club.

Miss Marie Rosenbaum will give a bridge-tee in honor of Miss Dora Goettinger, a bride-elect.

Teas at the Atlanta Woman's Club.

Miss Margaret Nelson will entertain at a buffet-supper in honor of Miss Jennie Johnson and Dr. Frank Miller Atkins.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jernigan will entertain the members of the Shelton-Stokes wedding party at a buffet supper following the rehearsal.

The Merry-makers club of Georgia Tech will give a dance at Garber hall.

Mrs. Ernest Woodruff will be hostess at luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club in compliment to Miss Jennie Johnson and Miss Maude Hurt Carlton, two brides-elect, and Miss Olive Caldwell, of New York.

Mrs. Martha White Bass will entertain the Hill-Scarboro bridal party following the wedding rehearsal at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mrs. Forrest Barfield will give a luncheon at the East Lake Country club at 1 o'clock in honor of Miss Mildred Shelton, a bride-elect of October.

Mrs. Charles W. Brooks, Jr., will entertain this afternoon with a bridge-tee in honor of her sister, Miss Willene Asbury, of Clarksville, Ga.

Mrs. Harvey W. Cox, wife of the president of Emory college, will give a tea to the members of the faculty and their wives.

Miss Mary Jimmy Pattillo will entertain with an afternoon tea at 3:30 o'clock at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue in honor of a group of young girls who will be debutantes this season.

Mrs. James L. Wheeler will entertain the officers of the Banquet Hall Insurance group of the Atlanta Woman's club this afternoon at a bridge-tee at her home, 71 Rosedale drive.

Miss Willene Asbury Of Clarksville To Be Honored

Mrs. Charles W. Brooks will be hostess at a bridge-tee this afternoon in compliment to her sister, Miss Willene Asbury, of Clarksville, Ga., who is her guest.

Invited to meet the attractive guest are Mrs. Asbury Milam, Mrs. W. L. Adair, Mrs. H. L. Davidson, Mrs. DeLeon Drake, Mrs. Leonard Almon, Mrs. Colquitt Meacham, Mrs. Carl Fischer, Mrs. Clifford Kagsdale, Mrs. Alfred Newell, Mrs. Mark Penicost, Mrs. J. H. Stewart, Mrs. Barton Gause, Mrs. Bruce Baxter, Mrs. J. deLiesseine, Mrs. John Ray Pattillo, Mrs. William Lake, Mrs. Lois Bryant, Miss Martha Crane and Miss Elizabeth Peoples.

Winslow-Flake Wedding Party Is Tendered Evening Bridge

A lovely compliment to Miss Beatrice Winslow and Hugh Wallace Flake, whose wedding will be an event of the month, was the evening bridge-party at which Mr. and Mrs. Van Roy Baker were hosts at their home Thursday evening.

The reception apartments of the home were adorned with quantities of pink dahlias and cosmos, lavender, asters and ferns. The lovely color combination of pink and lavender was also carried out in the ices and minis.

Miss Winslow was presented with handpainted polychrome candles. The ladies' high score prize was a bridge score, and the prize for the gentlemen was a Japanese match case.

Supper was served at 11 o'clock at the small tables, each table holding in the center a crystal bowl filled with asters.

Mrs. Baker was gowned in blue panne velvet. And the honor guest wore coral brocade chiffon and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The guests included Misses Winslow, Dorothy Matthews, Hazel Lamar, Ethel Pritchett, Addie Coleman, Ila Howell, Hugh Flake, Ralph Donaid, Richard Starr, Mr. Mortimer, Mr. and Mrs. George Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Laird, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Knox Finley.

Business Girls To Hold Conference At Camp Highland

The young business girls' conference at the Y. W. C. A. camp at Highland, Ga., to be held Saturday and Sunday of this week, will be attended by five girls from each club of the federation, together with members of the federation council. Miss Lura Belle Robinson, president of the federation, will preside. The conference will be in charge of the girls. They will outline the program for the fiscal year for the individual clubs of the federation. The girls themselves will do the cooking and general housekeeping for the conference. Saturday afternoon will be given to recreation to be followed by a bacon bat. Miss Bessie Coffey will conduct the evening's devotionals.

Sunday morning devotionals will be led by Miss Ollie Haines of the Y. W. C. A. Home club, after which the girls who attended the summer's industrial conference at Juncoska, N. C., will make their reports. Others arranging the program features are Miss Mary Glenn, Miss Ruth Drew, Miss Claire Hume, and Miss Julia Walker.

In a discussion of educational classes for the clubs of the federation, home nursing, parliamentary law, economics will be featured. Miss Elisabeth Goss and Miss Julia Walker, Y. W. C. A. industrial secretaries, will attend the conference.

Girls who are interested in joining a Y. W. C. A. club are invited to communicate with the Y. W. C. A. Peachtree Arcade. The different girls' clubs have their own programs, according to the wishes of the girls themselves. They are self-governing clubs. The club group is organized to broaden friendships, promote self-improvement and provide wholesome recreation.

Many Y. W. C. A. clubs of today have been actively organized since the association was first on Whitehall street, 22 years ago, at the old Crankshaw corner, and later was conducted in the Steiner-Emercy building, that was on the viaduct. Friendships formed then exist today. Such clubs are possible for all girls. If girls in offices or commercial and industrial establishments wish a club for their own group, the Y. W. C. A. will organize it for them.

On club evenings, the girls, following their substantial 15-cent supper, gather around tables for their meetings and spend many cozy hours together.

Junior Music Club To Be Reorganized.

The reorganization of the Atlanta Junior Music club, under the direction of Miss Madeline Vepp, will take place on Saturday, October 6, from 2 to 4 o'clock in the concert hall of the Cable Piano company, next to the Metropolitan theater.

All former members are expected to come and bring new members with them. The membership fee is $1 for the year, and all music students of the city up to 18 years of age are cordially invited to join and help further the interests of musical Atlanta.

Women Voters Will Meet Today.

The DeKalb County League of Women Voters will hold its regular monthly meeting on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Miss Heaton, of Agnes Scott college, will be one of the speakers and all interested women are urged to come to the court house promptly. The meetings are held in the grand jury room.

Agnes Scott Girls To Hold Sale.

At the farmers' market, next to the Auditorium, the day students of Agnes Scott college will hold a rummage sale Saturday, October 6. The money raised will go toward finishing the furnishing of a room and sleeping porch in Gaines cottage. The college offered the use of these rooms in order that the day students might have a place to stay for various activities taking place at night, until they can complete the raising of the fund for their day student home to be built on the campus.

The sale is in charge of Miss Vivian Feltz, of Atlanta.

WOMEN SHOULD ACT QUICKLY

When a woman finds herself afflicted with backache, headaches, nervousness, dragging-down pains, pain in her side, irregularities and irritability, such circles appear under the eyes and her complexion gets sallow, she may be sure the underlying cause is some ailment peculiar to her sex. Such women should act quickly and take the great American remedy for such conditions. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and they may be saved years of suffering. For generations this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health and it may be relied upon with perfect confidence.—(adv.)

Party Is Given by Officers' Club Of Ft. McPherson

The members of the Officers' club of Fort McPherson held the first official meeting of the club on Tuesday evening, for the election of officers for the coming year. After the business session bridge and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour. An orchestra furnished music.

Mrs. James M. Kimbrough won the first prize for top score and Mrs. R. S. Porter the second.

The following officers were elected: President, Lieutenant-Colonel J. M. Kimbrough, Jr.; vice president, Lieutenant-Colonel R. S. Porter, medical corps; house director, Captain H. W. Keller, Q. M. C.; hop director, Captain A. R. Bolling, adjutant Twenty-second Infantry; athletic director, Colonel James Regan, Q. M. C.; secretary and treasurer, Lieutenant T. V. Webb; assistant secretary and treasurer, Lieutenant A. C. Morgan.

It was decided to have an entertainment every Friday evening during the coming season, either a dance or card party, for the officers and their families and their invited guests.

Mrs. J. J. Carnes, of Royalton, Mich., has joined her husband, Lieutenant J. J. Carnes, who has reported for duty with the Twenty-second Infantry.

Lieutenant H. J. Boettcher has returned from a leave spent in Eastport, Maryland.

Miss Anna May has returned from a three weeks' visit to points in Michigan. Miss May is the chief librarian of the Fourth corps area.

Company K of the Twenty-second Infantry, gave a most elaborate dinner Tuesday in celebration of their home coming. The commanding officer of the regiment, Lieutenant-Colonel James M. Kimbrough, Jr., and his entire staff were honor guests. Others seated at the table were Major W. G. Jones, Captain A. R. Bolling, Captain C. F. T. Cooper, Chaplain L. D. Miller, Lieutenant A. C. Morgan, Colonel Kimbrough made a short speech on the many things accomplished by the regiment during their recent stay in camp.

The Service club will be the scene of a pretty dance on Thursday evening when the enlisted men of the regiment will entertain their families and friends at a dance. The orchestra from the regimental band will furnish the music, and this is always an added attraction.

Marietta Today Waiting to See Parade of Tots

Marietta, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—Weighing and measuring of babies goes merrily on, and a seemingly endless procession winds its way to the Y. W. C. A. rooms here. The doctors, nurses and members of the registration committee are just the busiest people in the state of Georgia this, "Better Babies" week, but the sight of all these healthy, happy babies and the interest and appreciation shown by the mothers makes them feel fully repaid.

The interesting program for Thursday afternoon was held in the Strand theater, loaned by Hugh Manning for the occasion. The feature film of the day was loaned by the state board of health and put on by the county board of health under the direction of Miss Virginia Gibbs, county health nurse. The films depicted "Our Children—Babyhood and Childhood." Miss Susan Matthews, of the State Agricultural College at Athens, showed slides on nutrition of children, explaining and enlarging on the theme in an interesting and entertaining manner. All of the foregoing were for the benefit of the mothers, but what the children really enjoyed was the comedy film, "Feud at the Throttle." Miss Lucy Bailey's stringed orchestra furnished the music for the afternoon.

Baby week will end in a grand finale on Friday afternoon, and Mrs. Grady Conway, chairman of the baby show, reports all in readiness. The show and parade are to be in the park if the weather continues to smile. But if it should rain, all will be just as effective in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium.

Welfare Luncheon Held in Marietta.

A charming social event of child welfare week in Marietta was the tea given by Mrs. Stratford Hewitt and Mrs. S. H. Sibley at the home of the former, in honor of Miss Tapping, of New York, and Miss Thornhill, of Washington.

All the lower rooms of the attractive home were thrown together and lavishly decorated in dahlias and snapdragons in shades of rose. The elegantly appointed table in the dining room had as its central decoration a large silver bowl of those lovely flowers, with tall silver candelabra holding unshaded pink tapers, on either side.

Mrs. George Montgomery presided over the tea service.

Assisting were little Dudley and Merton Sykes, Harriet and Mrs. Pierre Camblos, Miss Johnson and Mrs. D. C. Cole.

Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Hague, president of the Woman's club; Miss Virginia Gibbs, county health nurse, and Mrs. F. S. Lorenz. Those invited to this delightfully informal affair were the chairman of the various committees for child welfare week, the wives of the doctors who are so generously assisting in the work, and a few of the representative women in the city.

Social Items of Interest.
Miss Mary Leamon entertained on Tuesday afternoon, inviting a few friends informally to meet Mrs. Judson Graves, of Woodbury.

Mrs. Fred Dunn, Mrs. Jimmie Cox and Mrs. Dave Lalimer entertained the Baptist church on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dunn.

Mrs. Dempsey Medford was hostess to the Methodist Philanthropies Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley DeFoor, Misses Virginia Boston, Lucile Morris, Elizabeth Nolan, and Lieutenant Fred Morris, Morgan McNeil, Jr., and Robert Williamson, formed a congenial party motoring to Atlanta Wednesday evening for dinner and the theater.

Mrs. Thomas Charlton and daughter, Katharine, who have been the guests of Misses Julia and Mary Howell for ten days, left Thursday for their home in Savannah.

Frank Hardeman is a member of the orchestra playing at the Atlanta theater.

Richard Simpson, of Knoxville, Tenn., who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. T. A. Gramling, returned home Thursday.

Mrs. J. J. Daniel had as her guests at an informal luncheon Wednesday Mrs. W. T. Starr, of Albany; Mrs. W. A. Dufree, Mrs. David Comfort, and Miss Mary Reynolds.

Executive Board Will Have Meeting.

The executive board of the Federated Church Women of Georgia will meet Friday afternoon, October 5, at 3 o'clock, in the First Baptist church.

Election of officers will be held and a full attendance is requested.

Miss Winslow Is Honored.

Mrs. Harry Camp honored Miss Beatrice Winslow, a bride-elect of October, with a matinee party Thursday afternoon and the guests were entertained at tea.

Miss Winslow wore a becoming gown of black charmette and her hat was of black velvet, trimmed with burnt goose.

The invited guests included the members of the wedding party and a few friends of the honoree.

Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, president of the fifth district Georgia Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, calls an all-day meeting of the district members for Friday, October 12, at 10 o'clock, in Joseph Habersham hall, corner of Fifteenth street and Piedmont avenue.

Governor Clifford Walker will be one of the principal speakers of the day, the program to include two other noted Georgians, Andrew M. Soule, of Athens, president of the State College of Agriculture, who will make an interesting address, and Senator Walter George. Business matters of importance will be discussed at the morning and afternoon sessions.

The officers of the fifth district include Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, president; Mrs. Thomas Lewis, vice president; Mrs. O. M. Stanton, secretary; Mrs. A. M. Boyd, treasurer, and Mrs. J. B. Richards, historian.

Mrs. Julian Harris P. T. Board Is Elected President Of Calhoun P. T. A.

Mrs. Julian Harris was elected president of the Calhoun P. T. association at the initial meeting of the fall Thursday afternoon when over two hundred members assembled in the auditorium of the Calhoun Street school.

Mrs. Harris succeeds Mrs. Howell Dodd, who has served as president for two years and was made ineligible on account of changing her residence outside of the city limits. During Mrs. Dodd's regime the association has made rapid growth and developed much interest in its work among the membership. Mrs. Dodd will take possession of her home on Piedmont road at an early date.

Other officers elected Thursday were Mrs. W. L. Brady, vice president; Mrs. C. Decker Tebo, secretary; Mrs. T. R. Turner, treasurer.

Will Meet in Macon October 10

The executive board of the Georgia Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. Bruce Carr Jones, on Forsyth street in Macon, Ga., on Wednesday, October 10.

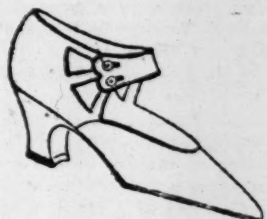

It will be an all-day session and the officers and chairman of the standing committees will make up the roster of the executive board.

Among those who will attend the meeting from Atlanta are Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, president, of the fifth district; Mrs. J. E. Andrews, past president of the state organization and chairman of Americanization; Mrs. P. H. Jeter, of Decatur, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Robertson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. J. W. Rowlett, historian.

Music and Good Clothes

LAP-DOGS AND TAXES

BY LOUISE DOOLY

Rumors from home indicate that there will be an appropriately brilliant social side to the opening concert on Sunday by Atlanta's symphony orchestra. Appropriate, because both music and social life relate to people's happy times—to their hours of refuge from grim facts. Facts must have a big part in one's twenty-four hours, but facts with a share of fancy make a better balanced day.

Atlanta subscribers to the concert series have some of them considered this first event of the season important enough to bring distinguished men and women from a distance to attend, just as opera each spring is made the occasion for entertaining out-of-town guests.

It might even be predicted that when the beautiful lobby of the Howard theater begins to be thronged next Sunday afternoon with the music loving and civic enthusiasts who will form the concert audience, it will be seen that the opening of the concert series has—again appropriately—been made the occasion for wearing one's best clothes. Perhaps it would be wiser, however, to pass over this probability without comment, else when Georgia's legislature meets in extra session in November, the specific subject of an improved tax system for the state, for which the session was called, might be side-tracked to lay a special tax on symphony orchestras in Georgia cities of more than 200,000 population.

For the same reason it may well be urged that women attending the concert leave their lap dogs at home. The press of the country has expressed considerable surprise since last summer that Atlanta women should have adopted the custom of taking their Pomeranians to opera. Even Georgians away from home were a bit confused by the fulminations of Georgia's lawmakers (reported faithfully in every newspaper in the country that carries Associated Press) against the pernicious luxury of beautiful music which leads to the coddling of canines at grand opera; or something to that effect. As said before, it was all a bit confusing. If Atlanta people back up the new orchestra at the first concert Sunday afternoon at the home of her parents, to the fine enterprise of the promoters and the quality of the band which Enrico Leide has brought together, then a different kind of newspaper publicity can be sent out from Atlanta, which will to some extent offset the pernicious luxury set the unpleasant advertising Georgia was made the victim of in mid-summer when a "little group of wilful men" awayed Georgia's legislature to pass a measure that stultified the intelligence of the lawmaking body and put the state in a bad light before the country.

To make a success of a symphony orchestra—an institution which appeals only to the best instincts in people—is not going to be an easy job in a state which can pass a law like the one referred to which taxes opera performances in Georgia.

All the more reason then for a whole-hearted and intensive purpose on the part of the people who pride themselves on intelligence and education to throw themselves with extra ardor into this orchestra movement.

Miss Mary Orme Is Hostess

Miss Mary Philip Orme was hostess at a heart-dice party Thursday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Orme, on Fairview road, in celebration of the anniversary of her twelfth birthday.

The young guests were entertained in the spacious living rooms which were attractively decorated for the occasion with a profusion of garden flowers and blooming plants. The prizes were dainty novelties. The birthday table was covered with a rare lace cloth and held in the center a birthday cake elaborately embellished. The young hostess was gowned in blue crepe de chine. Miss Orme, her sister, assisted in entertaining and was gowned in yellow crepe de chine. Invited for the occasion were: Misses Laura McGinty, Flossie Hill, Elizabeth Thompson, Vaughan Nixon, Mae Latimer, Louise Candler, Martha Candler, Helen Candler, Harriett Grant, Jennie Champion, Mary Adair Howell, Mary Goldsmith, Jean Lucas, Katherine Yow, Maybelle Dickey, Katherine Flagler, Jane Lynch, Martha Williams, Charlotte King, Betty Gilman, Nancy B. Keeler, Mrs. C. W. Clarke, Nancy Candler, Margaret Underwood Helen Dewley, Lula Coker, Josephine Crawford, Louisa Shivers, Josephine Richardson, Betty Haines, bright, Anne Wynn Fleming, Virginia Fortson and Anne Fleming.

Miss Donoghue Is Complimented

Miss Florence Donoghue, of New York, the guest of Mrs. Walter Hill, was the honor guest at a bridge-tennis party entertained by Mrs. Ira Sage, Thursday afternoon at her home in the Palmers apartments, on Peachtree place. The reception rooms presented an inviting appearance, decorated with baskets of early fall flowers. The prizes were bridge novelties. The table held in the center a silver basket filled with pink roses, geraniums and mignonette. Invited for the occasion were: Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. Y. Frank Freeman, Mrs. George Randall, Mrs. C. W. Martin, Mrs. J. H. Harris, Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. Flora Garlington, Mrs. Charles Love and Mrs. Chauncey Smith.

Mrs. McCutcheon Elected to Head P.-T. Presidents' Club

Mrs. Howard McCutcheon, one of the most active and popular women identified with parent-teacher work in Atlanta and throughout the state, who was elected president of the P.-T. Presidents' club at the first meeting held Thursday.

Mrs. Howard McCutcheon was elected president of the Parent-Teacher or Presidents' club at the initial meeting of the fall held Thursday at the Hotel Ansley. She succeeds Mrs. David L. Wise, who has been made honorary life president of this organization, which was founded by Mrs. J. E. Andrews several years ago, the object of which has been to bring together the presidents of the various associations at these luncheons, which are strictly of a social nature. Mrs. Andrews served as the president of the State Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, as a past president of the P.-T. A. and is now state chairman of Americanization. She is one of the most active and constructive women identified with this interesting work.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. J. C. Malone, president of the Samuel M. Inman P.-T. A. vice president, and Mrs. W. L. McCulley, Jr., president of the Joel Chandler Harris P.-T. A. as secretary and treasurer. They succeed Mrs. J. E. Freeman and Mrs. Carl Dick.

Mrs. McCutcheon is president of the James L. Key P.-T. A. and is also chairman of ways and means. She is now popular in this work for several years and has been foremost in her leadership and executive ability, filling most acceptably every high office to which she has been called. One of her greatest fields of endeavor has been in the Tech High P.-T. A. work and her every undertaking has been crowned with success. Mrs. McCutcheon is most attractive and has a charming personality. Mrs. Wise was made honorary life president of the Presidents' club upon her retirement. She is a past president of the Formwalt P.-T. A. and served last year as corresponding secretary of the parent-teacher council. Mrs. Wise came to Atlanta five years ago from New York and since making her home here she has been recognized as a most devoted and untiring worker in P.-T. A. organizations of Atlanta. She is highly educated and is a woman of strong personality and influence. Mrs. J. E. Andrews spoke to the luncheon guests and told of the progress of the Americanization committee. W. A. Sutton, superintendent of the Atlanta public school system, addressed the women on the value of the P.-T. clubs to the schools. A letter of sympathy was read upon the subject to Mrs. J. E. Freeman, president of Home Park school, who is ill. Mrs. Charles A. Morris, honorary life president of the club, spoke on legislation, of which committee she is state chairman.

What Women Wear

BY ANNE RITTENHOUSE

Wear Bouffant Skirts Indoors, if You Will, but Outdoors, There Isn't Room. There is no room in buses and subways or motor cars for the Victorian crinoline, and no room in the twentieth century scheme of things for Victorian morals. Still, bouffant skirts and tapering waists and drooping shoulders are charming—if for no other reason than as marks of contrast to the mid-Victorian mode, as it is now interpreted, has any close affinity for mid-Victorian morals, as we now suppose them to have been. You may have heard that at the race and other heterogeneous gatherings of be ignored for clothes of a more gracious, more graceful mould. The conservative women of France have not worn these bouffant frocks in public so much as the less conservative, simply because they did not wish to be conspicuous. And against the present background the Victorian or Second Empire skirt is still conspicuous. An English fashion authority has suggested as a solution for this problem that we become mid-Victorians indoors if we like. We could hardly manage it outdoors. Usually there isn't room. Besides, the quaint, rather prim lines of a frock of this sort would look out of place, let us say, in the restaurant where you stop for an after-theater snack to be munched to the vibrations of jazz. But in your own home, against the background of your own ancestral—or somebody's else's—mahogany, there is nothing more charming than this type of frock. You will find often enough the statement in mid-nineteenth century writing that the crinoline best becomes the woman of statuesque proportions, and that it is not a fashion that favors the woman of small stature. She is in danger of becoming insignificant in this fashion. The present version of the bouffant skirt, however, seems to lack this disadvantage.

The sketch shows a lovely house frock of bottle-green velvet with a full, ruffled skirt. The long, tight sleeves, the snug bodice and the nirl lace collar and cuffs carry out the most charming details of the Victorian period.

Atlanta Music Club Gives Italian Program. A most delightful morning of Italian music was enjoyed by the Atlanta Music club's membership Wednesday morning at the Woman's club auditorium. Charles F. Beaton acting as chairman of the meeting, which by discussion and musical program dealt with the "Development of Music in Italy."

Mr. Beaton's paper on this subject, read by Milford Waters, was concise and clear and of great interest. Miss Mary Lansing, Wilford Waters, Miss Elizabeth Hopson, Mrs. Louise Smith Green and Miss Helen Schind.

Rules and Arrangements Announced for Flower Show

The fall flower show sponsored by the Peachtree Garden club will be held Tuesday, October 16, at the Piedmont Driving club at 3 o'clock. This will be one of the outstanding social events of the month and the club will be extended an invitation to the show.

The flowers to be featured are roses and chrysanthemums, which will be exhibited on one side of the lovely club ballroom, in many decorative and attractive places. On the other side of the ballroom there will be a competitive display of luncheon and dinner tables, covers to be laid for six guests at each table. Mrs. William P. Hill is chairman for the arrangements for this interesting event, and the committee assisting her includes Mrs. Jesse Draper, Mrs. William H. Kiser, Mrs. Thomas E. Erwin, Mrs. Edwin F. Johnson, Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun, Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mrs. Frank Adair, Mrs. Albert E. Thornton, Jr., Mrs. Charles E. Seiple.

The following rules governing the flower show include: All members are requested to exhibit and to notify Mrs. Hill, chairman, of their intentions to exhibit. All exhibits with the exception of class A and class G must be clearly marked with name of exhibitor, botanical and popular name of flower; class exhibits must be entered by 12 a. m., later than that they cannot enter competition; except in class A and class G receptacles will be furnished by the committee; in class A and class G arrangement and receptacles will count in awarding ribbons.

Class: Lunch table set with not more than 4 or 6 places—flowers, receptacles, linen, china, glass or other decorations furnished and arranged by exhibitor who will take all responsibility for her property. It is suggested that flat silver be omitted. Tables, size 48x48 inches or 36x48, will be furnished by the club; best exhibit of dahlias; three flowers in each color to be shown; best exhibit of roses; three flowers in each color to be shown; best exhibit of chrysanthemums; show chrysanthemums; old-fashioned garden chrysanthemums; form a class if three exhibits of the same flower are made; best novelty; best exhibit of mixed fall flowers, are range, variety of flowers, and quality to count; sweepstakes, best exhibit of show, any class included.

Notes: The committee requests that all receptacles and other properties be called for by owners immediately after the show; the committee takes no responsibility for receptacles or other properties; the prizes will be ribbons, except in class A and class H. First prize, blue ribbon; second prize, red ribbon; third prize, yellow ribbon; best novelty, violet ribbon; judges to be selected by committee; committee insists that exhibits be in place by 12 a. m.; and all flowers exhibited to be raised by exhibitor.

Atlanta Music Club Organizes Chorus. The chairman of the chorus of the Atlanta Music club was forced to close the list of applications Tuesday with the addition of many new names at the regular weekly practice at Cable Hall.

The three parts are now nicely balanced and great enthusiasm over the work was noticed among both old and new members. Much interest is centered upon the public appearances of this organization, the first one of which will be in November, and the director expects to have by then a well-trained group which will fulfill all expectations.

STARVED HEARTS

BY MILDRED BARBOUR

V. A. Dangerous Promise.
Madelon had not been mistaken in her belief that Duane Farley would not lightly accept his dismissal at Lane's hands.
But his efforts to see Madelon were neatly foiled by that master antagonist, even her mail was censored, and no message from her lover found its way to her.
Barbara and Ann Ordway, whom she met and instantly liked, kept her diverted as much as possible. Lane was not fond of society, so Barbara took little part in the activities of the fashionable world in which her position, found it hard to be unhappy over Farley. She missed his devotion, but when she faced the matter squarely and truthfully, she realized that her resentment at Lane's arbitrary dismissal of his suit was greater than her actual unhappiness at having to put him out of her life.

There came a day when Farley made one last effort. He determined to see Barbara and beg her intervention. It was a vain hope, he felt, but he desired to leave no avenue untried.
Madelon admitted him distrustfully. His impassive countenance betrayed a momentary flicker of surprise when Farley handed him his card and requested that it be given to Mrs. Lane. Barbara did not keep him waiting long.

"It is very good of you, Mrs. Lane, to grant me the privilege of an interview," he said after she had greeted him kindly. "It was rather an imposition, my asking it."
"I promised Madelon that I would see you," she told him gravely.
He looked up eagerly.
"Then she has not entirely forgotten me," Barbara smiled. He looked so unhappy, so forlorn. "You know about everything?" he asked.

"Barbara inclined her head. "You think there isn't any hope?" "Mr. Lane rarely changes."
"There was dejection in his pose. Barbara had an absurd desire to reach over and lay her white fingers on his tawny hair. He looked so boyish, so wretched.
"I am sorry," she said quietly. "Perhaps, in time."
She knew he was holding out a vain hope.

"Oh, time," he echoed with the impatience of youth. "I want to marry Madelon now. I don't want to wait. I want to see her and tell her I support her. True, I'm just starting out in my profession, but I've something from a legacy, and I've got a big plan that the chamber of commerce here is considering. I'll go through it, I know it will. . . I say," he looked at her, boyishly appealing, "may I tell you a little about it—and you can tell Madelon?"

"Please do," smiled Barbara. . . .
She knew he was holding out a vain hope.

Down through the area, women have unlocked man's heart with the key of his confidences.
Forster talked eagerly. Half an hour passed. Barbara was a flattering listener. He found himself indulging his hopes and fears, his plans for the future, basking in her sympathetic silence.

He did not realize yet—that she was beautiful, that her hair was a dusky halo framing the pallor of her face, that her lips were living crimson and softly curved, and through the lace of her girlish gown, gleamed white shoulders and flawlessly rounded arms. He only knew that her purple-black eyes were eloquent with sympathy and appreciation, and he silence was invitation to further confidence.

He did not even sense the light footsteps of Madelon passing the drawing room door on her way to keep an engagement with Ann.

Ann was planning a tea for Madelon.
"Drop in this afternoon and meet some of the youngsters in advance," she invited. "We'll make plans for the big shindig next week."

A number of girls and young men were gathered in Ann's cozy living room when Madelon arrived. The rug rolled back in the library and laid out a victrola blazed dance to an unseen corner. Ann called a greeting from behind the tea urn, and introduced everybody with informal carelessness.

It was nearing the end of afternoon when the maid ushered in a late-comer, who was hailed with delight by the entire company. Through the eager circle that immediately closed around him, Madelon caught a glimpse of a good-looking, bronzed young man, who towered over the dancing youths beside him.

Ann deftly extricated him from the laughing group and led him up to Madelon.
"This is Julian Barton, Madelon. Watch him, he's a heart-breaker!" Madelon looked up into dazzling, brilliant gray eyes.

Something stirred in her heart. This man was to be her fate.

Jane Hedden Hat Pattern

Model 696

Model 696 shows the Chinese influence very strongly. Chinese blue, Chinese red and gold are the predominating shades in an embroidered Chinese motif. An imported fabric carrying out the same coloring as the embroidery drapes crown and coronet of the turban form in soft folds. These shades make admirable color harmony with the cloth autumn wraps and fur coats of winter. Colors may be so blended as to make the most suitable for wear with a variety of garments.

Material Required.
One soft pressed crown, 1 cap lining, 3-8 yard elastic net or heavy grade of canvas, 2 yards brass wire, 3-4 yard fancy 18-inch material for drapery, 1-8 yard plain material 15 inches wide, embroidery materials.

PERMIT KLAN PARADE

Waycross Commission Bars

Masks in Event.

Waycross, October 4.—(Special.)—The Ku Klux Klan will be allowed to parade the streets of Waycross Thanksgiving evening provided no masks are worn. This was the action taken by the city commission on a petition presented by the Klan to the regular meeting of the commission.

Commissioner Walker after the reading of the petition stated that in his opinion the commission should either permit the parade or prohibit it, regardless of the mask question, but on the question he voted with the other commissioners for the original motion.

Commissioner Taylor seconded the motion. Commissioner Smith stated that in his opinion the commission should either permit the parade or prohibit it, regardless of the mask question, but on the question he voted with the other commissioners for the original motion.

STORE IN GLENVILLE IS GUTTED BY FIRE

Glenville, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—The farmers' union store here was almost completely destroyed by fire this morning about 1 o'clock. The stock carried by the company was valued at from $7,000 to $10,000. A small amount of insurance was carried. The building was owned by the People's bank and is one of the largest business houses here. The building was badly damaged. Origin of the fire is unknown.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna K. Forbes

SEA BATHS IN WINTER.

If you've lived anywhere within reach of the sea, you have most likely chosen the seaside for your vacation, so you know the benefits of salt water bathing. If you live too far away, you've missed something so good for you that you should lose no time finding out about it, even though you take your sea baths in your own bathtub.

A physician might explain to you at length just why salt water baths are so beneficial. Salt is healing and cleansing; swimming in sea water stirs the skin to extra activity, makes it throw off the waste matter that is only too apt to clog in the pores, makes your blood run, and does a dozen other good things to you.

Sea baths in a tub won't be quite so stimulating, because you won't have the advantage of exercise. But if you use sea salt generously, enough at least to get the approximate amount of real sea water, and if you have the water quite warm, you'll have something almost as good. For the heat will let the saltiness get at the skin, it will open and cleanse the pores.

Salt baths are specially recommended for nervous people, oddly enough they rest and relax while they stimulate. A hot salt bath will often bring on sleepiness in a had case of insomnia. Nervous babies benefit by salt baths too. And cold salt water is a marvelous thing for the complexion; it tightens up the sagging muscles of old age and helps prevent the wrinkles of middle age. It brings color to sallow, pale skin.

But try it! Bases of sea salt are really very cheap. You'll see the improvement in no time at all; at the end of the first bath, the skin will be rosy and glowing when you rub down with a towel, the whole body will feel better than it does after an ordinary soap and water bath.

Marcella M.—When sending for government issued pamphlets to Washington, you must always allow for three to four weeks to have them mailed to you.

Daisy.—Bleach your neck by using burdock or cucumber juice each day. With blue eyes, light hair and a fair skin wear blues and browns of deeper shades than those of your eyes or your hair. Such a choice will enrich your natural coloring.

N. A. C.—A sluggish liver will cause a dark circle around the mouth. Eat sparingly of all starchy, sweet or fatty foods. Train yourself to eat at little less than your appetite craves and the desire for so much extra food will disappear. You will also be healthier for making these changes.

Tomorrow—Carelessness.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

HAM FOR FLAVOR.

Ham and Egg Sandwiches.

Mince bits of left-over ham. Have ready slices of buttered toast. Scramble an egg for each person, with a tablespoon of milk added, add the ham, heat thoroughly and spread over the toast. Cover with another slice of hot toast, well buttered.

Eggs Benedict.

English muffins should be secured if possible, but rounds of bread will do. Slice the muffins in two, allowing one-half for each person and toast them on one side. In the meantime broil a slice of parboiled ham. On this place a poached egg, and pour over all a Hollandaise sauce. To make this you will need a quarter cup of weak vinegar, two tablespoons of lemon juice, a quarter cup of butter and a half cup of chicken stock. You may use canned chicken broth for this. Bring these ingredients to the boil and then pour over four egg yolks slightly beaten. Set over hot water and stir until it thickens, using a whisk. Season to taste.

Ham Appetizers.

Mince cold boiled ham. Moisten with melted butter or cream. Season with mustard. Pile on crisp pieces of buttered toast.

Veal and Ham Patties.

Half a pound of lean cooked veal, quarter of a pound of boiled ham; one ounce of butter; a gill of good stock made from veal bones; a pinch of salt; half a teaspoon of grated lemon rind; a small teaspoon of flour; a good seasoning of pepper; puff pastry. Line patty pans with the puff pastry fill with bread crust, put in a good oven. When done, remove the bread, fill with the veal mixture and serve hot or cold.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Choose a Durable One.

A waste basket should be chosen with the idea that an occasional bath in a tub of water is good for it.

Sounds Good.

A dainty way to serve California lettuce, so prevalent at this time of year, is to cut it in slices across the head. Serve a slice to each person, liberally garnished with mayonnaise. Strips of pimento add a pretty touch.

When Trimming Flowers.

Cut flowers will last longer if their ends are clipped with a sharp knife, rather than scissors, as scissors compress the stems and the water is not taken up so readily. A clean cut with a knife leaves the stems open to absorb the liquid.

Dirty Work.

The hands can be protected during dirty jobs, such as painting and cleaning, if common soap is moistened and rubbed into the pores, around the cuticle and under the fingernails. When the work is finished the dirt will wash off with the soap.

Rummage Sale Will Be Held.

The Atlanta chapter of the Bessie Tift Alumnae association will hold a rummage sale Saturday at 272 Peters street. Through the courtesy of J. H. Whitten, of the M. L. Thresher Realty company, this building has been secured. All members are requested to bring their rummage early Saturday morning, or notify Mrs. J. T. Daniel, 1745 W. 24th St., for particulars.

Rummage sale will be used for the scholarship fund.

BURIED ALIVE
FOR NINE DAYS,
MINERS ESCAPE

Falkner, Scotland, October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Buried alive for nine days, five of the 41 miners entombed by an explosion in a coal pit near here were rescued today. They were brought to the surface in fairly good condition and their remarkable escape from death has raised the hopes of the relatives of the others imprisoned. The searchers today were redoubling their efforts.

The first thing the rescued men asked for was cigarettes. They said all they had to exist on was water after the first day, when the supplies of bread gave out. The pit they were in was flooded by the explosion but they crawled to a ledge away from the water and found a passage where they got a current of air. There they stopped except for occasional trips for water until they were rescued.

The pit belonged to the James Nimmo company. Seventy men were entombed by the explosion but 29 soon escaped through a disused shaft. Virtually all hope for the remaining men had been given up.

STRANGE SEA CREATURE
CAUGHT IN VIRGINIA

Hampton, Va., October 4.—Probably the most remarkable deep sea creature ever landed in this section was caught this morning by hook and line off Ocean View. The creature has a body like a flounder and wings that measured an even six feet from tip to tip. It has a head like a hog, with a sharp, long bone protruding from the snout and a whip-like tail that measured 65 inches from the body to its tip. At the end of the tail two bony horns extended from each side. The body was 11 inches thick.

When You were a Boy

Glendale Terrace

HOW you hated to lug your old, dilapidated book-sack over rough trails many weary miles to the "little red school house on the hill!" Even when you entered high school, you still plodded along—wishing it "wasn't so darn far."

But, today, residents of Glendale Terrace, the newly developed and improved residential section between Eighth Street, Sixth Street, North Jackson Street and Bedford Place have a brand-new school house at their very doors. The beautiful new Senior Boys' High School will be completed before this time next year—and boys of Glendale Terrace will have only a few steps to take from home to class room!

That's just another one of the many advantages of the Glendale Terrace location. There are others—many of them. We shall be glad to talk them over with you.

Because we firmly believe these lots to measure up to the Adair Standard of Values, we are recommending them for immediate reservation. We are now making most liberal terms on them. Lots in this desirable section being offered for the present as low as $2,500.

Shattuck's Vengeance Trail
APACHE BANDIT CHIEF IS WOUNDED
Ends in Fight in Paris Cafe

PARIS, October 4.—The trail of vengeance of Albert Shattuck, New York millionaire, is at an end.

Griffiths relentlessly, Shattuck's agents and police of a dozen world capitals have combed slums, waterfronts and "white ways," from Singapore to Liverpool for the past 19 months, seeking the fugitive "Apache," Gabriel Alphonse Mourry, who robbed Shattuck's home of $75,000 worth of jewelry and attempted to murder the family.

Before leaving Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck prisoners in their home, the Apache had jinglingly told the American woman that he would return and kill her. Since the crime Shattuck has been on the hands of the law, utilizing every art of justice.

The Paris police knew Mourry, a famous Apache and jailbird, who has been running down other clues on the bandit's hiding place.

It was the homing instinct of the Paris apache that finally led to his capture. Had he been asked to stay away from his "hau" and friends of the Paris underworld he might have remained free. Coming here, he was soon recognized.

The history of Mourry's crime and the ruthless search for him writes a new page in fantastic stories of international crime.

Wanted here, Mourry drifted to America and secured employment as a butler in the Shattuck mansion in Greenwich Village, N. Y. Living under the alias of "Henri Boliat," possibly he had intended to start a new life in the new world, but if so, such dreams failed when he found himself surrounded by the wealth of the American home.

Mourry gathered a band of French criminals, and on April 2, 1922, secretly admitted them to the house, where he and his followers, including the following Sunday afternoon.

Then, emerging from the hiding places, the bandits attacked Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck, eight servants, locking them in a cellar wine vault. Mourry, triumphant over the household, helped himself to the contents of the wine vault, and then, returning to kill her, Mrs. Shattuck, who later refused to live in the house with the bandits, was freed by the police.

Officers fired back, as other detectives, stationed outside, rushed into the smoke-filled room. A hail of fire swept across the tables, as Mourry, crouching, blazed away steadily.

Suddenly he pitched forward, and fell, still firing as he writhed upon the floor.

Then, the automatic magazine

ANASTASIA LEAVES $300,000 FORTUNE

New York, October 4.—A will disposing of the estimated $300,000 fortune left by Prince Anastasia of Greece, who died in London last August 20 and was buried here, was filed today.

Minor bequests are made to her son, William B. Leeds, Jr., and his wife, Princess Xenia of Russia, and to a niece, Nancy Stewart Green. The residue of the estate was left in trust, the income to be divided equally by Prince Christopher, husband of Princess Anastasia, and Margaret Stewart Green, of Montclair, N. J., a sister.

FRENCH COAST SWEEP BY TERRIFIC STORM

Cherbourg, October 4.—A terrific storm is disarranging shipping schedules. The majestic should have touched here last evening but was unable to enter the roads and today was awaiting twenty miles out.

The Leviathan which was expected this evening, will not arrive until tomorrow. The departure of the Reliance and the Empress of Britain was delayed yesterday. The wind blew off the big dock of the dock station, injuring one trans-Atlantic passenger.

A number of small vessels have sunk or gone aground.

PISTOL FIGHT ENDS
Man Is Drowned
In Auto Accident

Richmond, Va., October 4.—(Special.)—Coroner Whitfield announced today that inquiry into an automobile accident which cost the lives last night of Robert McClure Paxton and Richard Brandon, college students of this city, had developed the fact that the victims came to their deaths from drowning and not, as generally supposed, from injuries received when a coupe driven by Paxton went over an embankment at Seventh and Baker streets, and landed in a cesspool 60 feet beneath.

Examination of the bodies disclosed only minor injuries, he said.

Brandon was a son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brandon, of this city, and a grandson of Mrs. Nannie Brandon, 415 Russell street, Nashville, Tenn. His mother was before her marriage Miss Hughes, of Franklin, Tenn. The youth was also a nephew of Mrs. Charles R. Craig, of Nashville, and Morris Brandon, an attorney of Atlanta, Ga.

His body will be sent tomorrow afternoon to Nashville for burial following funeral services here.

Paxton was a son of Mrs. Robert Paxton, of this city, and was prominently related throughout Virginia. Both youths were students at the University of Richmond. It was under

J. Waters, Savannah, Ga.; E. E. Cooke, Dawson, Ga.; Chas. H. Cox, state adjutant, Atlanta. The transportation committee has arranged for one of the most attractive trips that could be had, which includes sight-seeing at New Orleans, El Paso, Grand Canyon and Los Angeles. A day will be spent at each of these places, where sight-seeing trips have been arranged. A journey will also be made into Old Mexico from El Paso.

RENTAL PROPERTY FOR INCOME

There are three great sources of income for capital invested without personal service—RENTS, DIVIDENDS, INTEREST.

Some of the largest fortunes in the United States, notably the Astors and Vanderbilts of New York City, are based on rental income from city real estate. One advantage about rents is that the checks reach you monthly, enabling you to look a grocery bill in the eye.

We have at this time on our list several good parcels of city rental property; these have substantial net value and good improvements. The net income is 3 or 4 times as much as the value of the improvements left in a savings bank; and there is always a share in the enhanced value derived from the growth of the city. If Atlanta is to be a half million city you can share in its enhancement by becoming the owner of rental property.
